

AUM Bookstore Textbook Rental Policies

- All Students interested in renting textbooks must have a valid AUM Student I.D. and be currently registered for the term wanting to rent textbooks.
- The textbook rental fee is 45% of the new textbook price and is due at the time of purchase. Students may pay with cash, credit cards, personal check, and qualifying financial aid (if available).
- Refund eligibility on textbook rental purchases will be noted on your receipt and varies during a semester.
- All rented textbooks may be written in pencil only. No highlighting or ink. Failure to adhere with this policy will result in the full amount of the textbook being charged to the student. Lost, stolen and damaged textbooks are the responsibility of the student.
- Returning textbooks: all textbook rentals are due at the AUM Bookstore by the close of business the day after final exams and are subject to review by an AUM Bookstore staff member. Failure to return the rented textbook by this time will result in the total purchase price, plus applicable sales tax, charged to the student's account. There is no credit for the rental fee. There is no guarantee of a buyback on a rented textbook that has been charged to your account. Students may review their accounts in WEBSTER.
- At the discretion of the AUM Bookstore Director, charges for rented textbooks not returned by the due date may be waived on account of sickness, injury, or family emergency provided the student has a notification of absence, and proper documentation of the circumstances.
- If you have questions about policy relating to your particular situation, consult the AUM Bookstore Director or Bookstore Coordinator only. Do not ask other students or faculty members. The AUM Bookstore phone number is 334-244-3578 or e-mail at bookstore@aum.edu.
