Auburn University at Montgomery presents this catalog to its graduate students, prospective graduate students, employees and others to inform them about the admission process, degree programs and requirements, course descriptions, regulations, faculty members and other pertinent information. The statements made in this catalog are for informational purposes only and do not constitute a contract between the student and AUM.

While Auburn University at Montgomery reserves the right to make changes to its policies, regulations, curriculum and other items listed in this catalog without actual notice to students, the information accurately reflects policy and progress requirements for graduation effective August 1, 2014. These changes will govern current and formerly enrolled students. Enrollment of all students is subject to these conditions.

Auburn Montgomery will make every effort to keep students advised on any such changes. Information on changes will be available online at www.aum.edu, as well as in the Office of Admissions and/or the deans’ offices. It is important that each student be aware of his or her individual responsibility to keep apprised of current graduation requirements for his or her degree program.
Accreditation

Auburn University at Montgomery is accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools to award baccalaureate, masters, educational specialist and doctoral degrees. Inquiries related to the university’s accreditation by the commission may be directed to the Commission on Colleges, 1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, Georgia 30033-4097, 404-679-4500 or www.sacscoc.org. Questions related to admissions, programs and practices of AUM should be directed to the university’s offices, publications or websites.

Mission of the University
The mission of Auburn University at Montgomery is to provide quality and diverse educational opportunities at the undergraduate and graduate levels through use of traditional and electronic delivery systems, and to foster and support an environment conducive to teaching, research, scholarship, and collaboration with government agencies, our community, and other educational institutions.

University Identity and Core Values
Auburn University at Montgomery is a fully accredited comprehensive, public university with a diverse student population that includes a blend of traditional and nontraditional learners awarded degrees in a variety of disciplines from its programs. Our personalized and caring learning environment offers academically strong undergraduate and graduate programs designed and taught by faculty who are active researchers in their fields and who play a vital role in each student’s success. We stand apart from our peers as an institution with an applied emphasis, having a history of producing leaders prepared to make a positive impact in their chosen fields.

As a critical partner in our community, we provide expertise that enhances economic development and the quality of life for individuals in the region and beyond. These partnerships strengthen not only our community, but our students and faculty as well.
Core Values
Auburn University at Montgomery values and promotes:

• A Student-Centered Experience
• Citizenship & Community Engagement
• Excellence as Our Standard
• Commitment to Constant Improvement
• Diversity of People & Perspective with a Culture of Inclusiveness
• Lifelong Learning
• Environment of Collaboration

AUM Library
The AUM Library is housed in a 10-story tower. The library collection contains over 300,000 books, over 60,000 ebooks, and more than 70,000 full-text journals available in print and/or electronic format. The library provides Internet access to more than 120 databases covering all academic disciplines. The library also has extensive collections of documents and periodicals in electronic format and on microfilm, as well as a growing collection of manuscripts and archival materials. In addition, it maintains a collection of browsing materials consisting of bestseller and popular fiction items. The library is one of two regional federal documents depository libraries in Alabama, with more than 1.75 million publications dating from the mid-19th century to the present.

The library provides access to its holdings through its online catalog, and access to the catalogs of libraries within the state and throughout the world. For remote access to library collections, visit the library http://aumnicat.aum.edu.

The library supplements its holdings by providing interlibrary loan services for students, faculty and staff. The campus community also has direct, online borrowing privileges for books from the libraries at Auburn University, Jacksonville State University, the University of Alabama and the University of Alabama at Birmingham. The AUM Library is a member of OCLC Inc., an international online bibliographic database with more than 100 million records; Lyrasis, the nation’s largest regional membership organization serving libraries; and the Network of Alabama Academic Libraries.

The AUM Library is also a member of the Montgomery Higher Education Consortium, which allows AUM students, faculty and staff to check materials out from the libraries at Alabama State University, Faulkner University, Huntingdon College and Troy University’s Montgomery campus.

The library’s reference service offers instruction for students in the use of library resources and assistance in beginning a research project. The library’s reference assistance is offered in person, by phone and online, using the library’s “Ask a Librarian” service, available at reference@aum.edu. The library faculty and staff also provide assistance in finding information, using online databases, and library equipment. The library provides news and updates through its blog at http://aumnicat.aum.edu/weblog.

The library has seating for more than 70 students, including study tables and chairs and comfortable soft seating. For quiet study, there are individual study carrels located on floors three, four, and five of the tower. The library provides equipment to assist those with visual impairments, listening carrels and a combined computer lab/classroom that can seat 31 patrons. The library is also configured for wireless access and provides comfortable seating on the first floor, with access to a coffee bar.

The library is open 87 hours a week during the semester and is staffed by capable, friendly professional librarians and paraprofessional staff eager to assist you in locating information both in person and online.

Counseling Center
The Counseling Center supports students in their university experience by offering free counseling services to those enrolled in a degree-granting program at AUM. Services provided by the center are designed to promote self-awareness, enhance positive development in behaviors, feelings and relationships and address difficulties which impede daily life satisfaction. Students seeking counseling from the Auburn Montgomery Counseling Center will be met with confidentiality, acceptance, trust and respect by a trained licensed professional credentialed by the state of Alabama. The counseling process can be initiated by the student or through referral via a teacher, family member, friend or professional in the community. The choice to begin, continue or terminate counseling is left to the student. Walk-ins are welcomed and appointments are encouraged. The center is located in room 316 of the Taylor Center. Office hours are Monday through Friday, 8 a.m.–5 p.m. Extended hours available upon request at 244-3469. After-hour emergencies should be directed to Campus Police at 244-3424. Center Services include:

1. Individual and group counseling services
2. Outreach programs focusing on prevention, education, and skill development
3. Skills and behavioral assessments
4. Crisis intervention
5. Consultation and referral services

Learning Center and Instructional Support Lab
AUM offers free tutoring in mathematics, writing in all courses across the disciplines, English as a Second Language as well in statistics, accounting, biology, chemistry, organic chemistry, anatomy and physics.
The Learning Center, located in Young Library Tower 225, provides free, individual tutoring in mathematics, accounting, statistics, writing in all courses across the disciplines, and English as a Second Language. Computers are equipped with Maple for use in tutoring math. Online asynchronous writing tutoring for students enrolled in online courses is also provided. In addition, handouts and links to excellent online writing resources can be found at the Learning Center webpage at www.aum.edu/learningcenter.

Students who live on campus may be tutored in the residence halls. Inquire about current hours. Students may call 334-244-3470 or stop by the center to make an appointment. Online tutoring is scheduled by appointment only. TDD users may call 334-244-3801.

The Instructional Support Lab offers free, one-on-one, small group and computer-assisted tutoring in biology, chemistry, physics, statistics, anatomy, organic chemistry and mathematics. Services are on a first-come, first-served basis. No appointments are necessary. The ISL also proctors tests for math, business, and science courses as well as for some online courses. For further information, call 334-244-3265.

Housing and Residence Life

Residence life at AUM gives students the full college experience. Residents are within easy walking distance of classes, the library, Taylor Center, extracurricular activities and friends. In order to meet residents' needs, on-campus housing includes: free basic and expanded cable, free local telephone service and high-speed Internet, free use of laundry machines and free parking in well-lighted parking lots.

The Commons, AUM’s eight-story apartment tower, features secure, suite-style living with single rooms and fully furnished kitchen and living areas. The Courtyards offers semi-private two-bedroom or private one-bedroom apartments with fully furnished kitchens. Activities planned especially for residence students include cookouts, movies, speakers and socials. AUM housing is reserved for full-time students. Applications for housing are available in the Office of Housing and Residence Life in Taylor Center or online at my.aum.edu.

Career Development Center

The purpose of the Career Development Center is to promote and stimulate the career development processes of AUM students and interested alumni. It is a clearinghouse of information for those interested in career planning, placement, cooperative education and internships.

Career Planning and Placement

The AUM Career Development Center offers comprehensive career programming, planning, and placement services to students and alumni. The office provides pertinent information on occupational outlooks, salaries, and employment trends on the national, state, and regional levels. Student services are available in a variety of areas, including individual and small group student counseling, consultation, and career coaching, career assessments, job market information, workshops and seminars (resume writing, interview skills, job search strategies, and other essential career management skills). A variety of employer functions are offered, including Career Fairs (fall and spring), Educator’s Interview Day, part-time job fairs, sponsoring special employer information events and on-campus recruiting, and experiential education opportunities (job shadowing, mentoring, cooperative education, internships, etc.). The office also serves as a resource to AUM faculty and staff to provide consistent and timely career-related information into their classrooms and curricula.

Upon request, job search seminars are given throughout the year on writing resumes and cover letters, job interviewing skills and job-search techniques. These seminars are recommended for all AUM students so they can prepare to meet the recruiters from numerous companies who come to campus to interview seniors for full-time employment upon graduation. In addition, videotapes covering preparation for the job search, resume writing, interviewing and negotiating the job offer are available for viewing.

Students nearing graduation may register with the office by establishing a placement file. These files will be mailed to prospective employers at the request of the student.

Cooperative Education

Cooperative education is designed primarily for the undergraduate student. Co-op is a blending of classroom learning with actual work experience in a field closely related to the student’s major field of study. It translates academic theory into the real world of industry. Some advantages for students participating in the Cooperative Education Program include becoming better prepared technically through actual on-the-job experience, learning valuable lessons in human relations, having the chance to observe professionals working in their chosen field and earning wages which help cover educational expenses. Students interested in co-op should complete an application and establish a co-op file with the Career Development Center.

Fees and Charges

Fees at AUM remain somewhat lower than fees charged at similar institutions in the Southeast and throughout the nation. As operating costs rise, small increases in fees are authorized by the Board of Trustees to meet these increased costs. Every effort is made to hold these changes to the minimum.

Payment of Fees and Charges

Students are expected to meet all their financial obligations to the university when due. AUM has a centralized billing system for student accounts. Students should receive a statement two to three weeks prior to the first day of classes. If students register after this time, a billing statement will not be received. However, students are responsible for paying all charges by the due date. Billing statements for currently enrolled students are issued via e-bill only. An email notification will be sent to the students’ university-issued email address and to all authorized users when a new billing statement is issued.

It is the student’s responsibility to monitor his or her outstanding charges through WebPay throughout the term and to check his or her AUM email box regularly for correspondence related to billing statements, due dates and other financial matters.

Payment of all billed charges must be made by each statement’s due date to avoid late payment charges. Payments may be made via WebPay, by mail or by direct delivery to the Cashier Office. Payments made by mail should allow for delivery on or before the due date. Students may pay by cash, check or credit card (VISA, MasterCard, Discover and American Express). International payments can also be made by wire transfer.

Acceptance of Financial Responsibility
AUM reserves the right to deny continuing admission and to hold grades and transcripts of students who fail to meet their financial obligations. Students are required to acknowledge an Acceptance of Financial Responsibility statement each semester. This Acceptance of Financial Responsibility reads as follows:

I understand that registration in classes at Auburn Montgomery will create tuition and other associated fees being assessed to my student account. By registering for classes at Auburn Montgomery or otherwise receiving good and valuable services from Auburn Montgomery, I understand and agree to the following:

• If I fail to pay any unpaid balance on my student account, I will be personally responsible for the debt, and agree to pay, all costs and fees of collection, including interest, late payment fees, transcript hold fees, collection fees of third party collection agencies or attorneys (which may be based on a percentage of up to 40% of the principal, interest, late payment fees, and transcript hold fees accrued prior to referral to such agency or attorney), court costs, and/or any other charges necessary for the collection of this debt.

• I authorize the University and/or their respective agents and contractors to contact me regarding my student account at the current or any future number that I provide including my cellular phone or other wireless device using automated telephone dialing equipment or artificial or pre-recorded voice or text messages.

• This agreement is subject to the laws of the State of Alabama, without regard to its conflict or choice of law provisions. I irrevocably consent to the jurisdiction of the state and federal courts located in Montgomery County, Alabama, in any lawsuit arising out of or concerning this agreement, or the enforcement of any obligations under this agreement, including any lawsuit to collect amounts that I may owe as a result of this agreement.

The process of acknowledging the Acceptance of Financial Responsibility is completed online through the registration process in Webster. In the event it is not possible to complete it online, a signed form will be required.

Checks
Checks given in payment of fees and charges are accepted subject to final payment. If the bank on which the check is drawn does not honor the demand for payment and returns the check unpaid, the student will be assessed the handling charge of $30. The university has the right, but not the obligation, to redeposit any returned check without notice. Any returned check not paid within 10 days will be referred to the District Attorney’s Office for collection at the student’s expense.

Stop-payment and account-closed checks will be processed as returned items and subject to the same fees and collection costs. A stop payment placed on a check does not constitute withdrawal from courses. Official withdrawal must be made through the Office of the Registrar.

Veterans
Veterans enrolled under the federal GI Bill receive allowances directly from the government and are responsible for paying their fees and charges on the same basis as other students (this does not apply to the Veteran’s Rehabilitation Program).

Yellow Ribbon Program Agreement
AUM participates in the Yellow Ribbon Program under the Post-9/11 GI Bill (authorized under title V of Public Law 110-252) subject to the following terms, conditions and representations, and applicable VA regulations:

1. Provide contributions to all eligible individuals who apply for such program in the AUM VA Office, regardless of the training rate (i.e., full-time versus less than full-time), during the academic year.

2. Provide contributions on behalf of a participating individual during the current academic year and all subsequent academic years in which AUM participates in the Yellow Ribbon Program, provided that the individual maintains satisfactory progress, conduct and attendance according to the university’s prescribed standards.

3. Agree to limit contributions made on behalf of a participant to funds with unrestricted control (e.g., a scholarship sent directly to AUM on behalf of an individual or specific group of individuals from a third party may not be included in Yellow Ribbon Program contributions). Funds received directly or indirectly from Federal sources may not be counted towards contributions.

4. Agree to provide the maximum amount of contributions payable toward the unmet established charges to each participating individual during each term or semester the individual is enrolled. The maximum amount is 50 percent of the individual’s unmet established charges.

5. AUM agrees to provide contributions for each Yellow Ribbon Program participant through a university grant.
Tuition and Charges
Current AUM tuition and charges are available online at www.aum.edu.

Registration Cancellation
Student schedules for each term are subject to cancellation if charges are not paid by the specified date. The cancellation process will begin prior to the start of the term and end on the fifth day of classes. The specified dates for cancellation will be posted online at www.aum.edu. It is the student’s responsibility to be aware of these dates.

Students receiving financial aid (federal and state aid, scholarships, third party tuition payments, military assistance, PACT, etc.) for the semester at issue will not be subject to cancellation for that portion of the charge covered by financial aid. If partial financial aid is received, students will be subject to registration cancellation. If a student’s schedule is not cancelled as a result of financial aid being offered, the student will be responsible for the outstanding balance if the aid is not accepted.

Once a student’s schedule is cancelled, accounts must be current before the student will be allowed to re-register. All charges must be paid. Once a student’s schedule is cancelled, there is no guarantee the desired courses will be available.

Resignation and Refunds
Students dropping/resigning before regular classes start are eligible for a refund/waiver of all tuition and fees. Students dropping/resigning during the refund period after classes begin will be eligible for a partial refund/waiver. The eligible percentage of refund/waiver depends on the day of drop/resignation.

The only exception to this policy occurs in the case of personal illness or call to active military duty. Supporting written documentation (i.e., medical reports or military orders) is required in both instances. Refunds for medical withdrawals/resignations will be prorated based on the number of class days a student is registered. A full waiver/waiver of all tuition and fees may be granted if a student is called to active military duty. Students dropping/resigning during the refund period after classes begin will be eligible for a partial refund/waiver. The eligible percentage of refund/waiver depends on the day of drop/resignation.

Each course or section of a course is considered to be a separate registration with its own course registration number. Thus, switching from one course to another is a separate registration, as is switching sections of the same course.

Financial Aid
The Financial Aid Office at Auburn Montgomery administers programs which provide assistance to students who, without such aid, would be unable to attend the university. The Financial Aid Office also works with university departments and outside agencies to coordinate disbursement of scholarship funds.

Students may apply for federal financial assistance for the next academic year after January 1. Financial Aid requests are based on the results of a processed Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). The FAFSA may be completed at www.fafsa.ed.gov, and must be renewed annually. Students are encouraged to submit the FAFSA by the school’s March 1 priority date each year.

Attendance monitoring is required by the U. S. Department of Education to support any disbursements made to eligible students receiving federal financial aid. Failure to begin attendance in any course for which a student is registered will require a pro rata reduction and/or possible cancellation of student loans and other aid.

Students receiving federal financial aid (Title IV funds) who withdraw from the university are subject to the Return of Title IV regulations. If a student withdraws (or ceases to attend) prior to completing 60 percent of the term, a prorated portion of the federal financial aid must be considered unearned and returned to the federal program(s), and could cause the student to owe the university a balance upon withdrawal. See the Return to Title IV Funds Policy in the Financial Aid section of the catalog for more details.

Federal Financial Aid Programs
Federal TEACH Grant
The Federal TEACH Grant is available to students who are completing or plan to complete coursework needed to begin a career in teaching. Details on the requirements and service obligation attached to the TEACH Grant are available on the Financial Aid section of the Auburn Montgomery website at www.aum.edu/admissions. The grant may be converted to a Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loan if the service obligation is not met by the recipient.

Loans
Student loan programs provide long-term, low-interest loans for students and/or parents. Students must be degree-seeking and enrolled at least half-time (4.5 graduate hours) each term to qualify for federal loans. Not all students are eligible to borrow from all loan programs. Auburn Montgomery offers several types of loans:
- The Federal Direct Unsubsidized Stafford Loan is based on the cost of...
Students who remain enrolled at least 60 percent of the term are considered to have demonstrated financial need to be eligible for this loan. Interest on this loan begins to accrue upon disbursement.

- The Federal Perkins Loan is available to students who demonstrate extreme financial need as determined by the results of the FAFSA. The loan has an interest rate of 5 percent. Interest on this loan begins to accrue and repayment begins nine months after graduation or when a student is no longer enrolled at least half-time. Since funds are limited, students meeting the March 1 priority date are given first consideration.

- The Federal Direct Graduate PLUS Loan is available to the graduate students to meet the cost of education not met by other financial aid assistance. Students do not have to demonstrate financial need to apply for this credit-based loan. The repayment period on this loan begins 60 days after the loan is fully disbursed.

Federal Work-Study Program
The Federal Work-Study Program is a federally funded program that provides part-time employment opportunities in various offices on campus and in the community to students who demonstrate financial need as determined by the results of the FAFSA. Students are paid at an hourly rate (typically minimum wage). Since funds are limited, students meeting the March 1 priority date are given first consideration.

Satisfactory Academic Progress for Federal Financial Aid Recipients
Students must maintain satisfactory academic progress to be eligible for federal financial aid. This policy contains qualitative (grade-point average), quantitative (credit hour completion rate), and reasonable length of time measure requirements. To review the Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) Policy, please visit the Financial Aid section of the Auburn Montgomery website at www.aum.edu/admissions. Students wishing to appeal their satisfactory academic progress status should follow the instructions outlined within the policy.

Return of Title IV Funds
The Return of Title IV Funds policy applies to all federal financial aid programs, including Pell Grants, Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants, TEACH Grants, state grants, student loans, and parent loans.

Under this federally mandated policy, students who withdraw from all classes will be required to return financial aid funds received that are in excess of “earned” financial aid for the term. The percentage of the semester completed determines the percentage of aid earned. This percentage is calculated by dividing the number of days attended prior to the withdrawal date by the number of days in the semester. For example, if a student withdraws on the 30th day of a semester 100 days in length, the student will have earned 30 percent of the aid received (30/100 = 0.30). The “unearned” 70 percent would be subject to the return policy.

Students who remain enrolled at least 60 percent of the term are considered to have earned 100 percent of aid received and will not owe a repayment of federal aid received. Students who withdraw during the initial total refund period at the start of each term are considered to have earned none of the aid received and will be required to return all federal and state aid received or paid to their account.

Students considering withdrawing are encouraged to check with the Financial Aid Office prior to withdrawal to discuss options.

Note: Students who have failed to attend any classes in one or more courses prior to withdrawing may be subject to a reduction of awards. Faculty members report “no shows” after the third class meeting. Awards paid assuming full-time attendance may be reduced to 3/4 or 1/2 time awards, and then the Return of Title IV Funds policy calculation will be made.

Additional Information
For more information on the application process, policies, and other general financial aid information, please visit the Financial Aid section of the Auburn Montgomery website at www.aum.edu/admissions.

Educational Benefits for Veterans
AUM is approved by the Veterans Administration to offer educational training and provide certification for G.I. Bill benefits. Veterans planning to attend school and receive G.I. Bill benefits should visit the coordinator of veterans affairs at 334-244-3571.

For complete information about these programs, please contact the coordinator of veterans affairs at 334-244-3571.

The following regulations will apply to all AUM students who receive veterans’ educational benefits:

1. Withdrawal
   Students receiving VA educational benefits may withdraw from a course. Training time will be adjusted accordingly if the withdrawal occurs before the deadline for late registration. After that date, a withdrawal with W will be considered the same as an audit and VA benefits for that course will be terminated from the beginning of the term. Possible exceptions concerning the payment of benefits may be made where there are extenuating circumstances. Those receiving VA benefits should consult with the coordinator of veterans’ affairs before resigning or dropping courses.

II. Satisfactory Progress

Students receiving VA educational benefits are expected to make satisfactory progress toward a degree. Normal standards of progress as stated in this catalog are in effect for all students. To maintain satisfactory progress, the following should be carefully considered:

A. Develop a close advising relationship with your department advisor.
B. Take courses essential to your degree program. Veterans or eligible persons cannot receive VA benefits for courses that are not essential to their degree program or for repeating courses in which they already have credit (C grade or better).
C. A student receiving VA benefits is required to make satisfactory academic progress by maintaining a minimum overall 2.0 GPA on hours attempted at AUM. This measure becomes effective when the student has attempted 24 hours at AUM. Students not making satisfactory academic progress as stated above will have their VA benefits terminated.
D. Students who fail to meet satisfactory academic progress may appeal the termination by following the appeal process found at www.aum.edu/admissions/financial-information/veteran-services.

III. Certification

Those receiving VA educational benefits must have their attendance certified to the VARO to receive the appropriate remuneration. All VA benefit recipients will be certified/re-certified each semester after the last day to drop classes for 100 percent refund. It is prudent for all who receive federal VA educational benefits to review their status each semester with the AUM coordinator of veteran affairs to be sure their status is correct. It is the student’s responsibility to renew and report his or her correct enrollment status as necessary. Changes in status (dropping or adding courses, dropping out of school and renewing enrollment) must be reported to the AUM coordinator of veteran affairs.

For more information about veterans’ benefits, visit our financial aid website at http://www.aum.edu/admissions/financial-information/veteran-services.

■ General University Policies

Equal Opportunity Statement
AUM is an equal opportunity institution. It does not discriminate against students, employees or applicants for admission or employment in any of its programs or activities on the basis of age, disability, race, color, national origin, religion or sex. With respect to students and applicants for admission, AUM has designated responsible individuals to coordinate its efforts to comply with these non-discrimination provisions. Dr. Marc Hall, Department of Management (334-244-3513), coordinates compliance with the disability provisions. The Vice Chancellor of Student Affairs coordinates compliance with all other non-discrimination provisions. AUM has adopted grievance procedures providing for prompt, equitable resolution of complaints. Students and applicants should contact the associate provost to avail themselves of these procedures.

Accommodation for Individuals with Disabilities
AUM provides reasonable accommodations for environmental and program accessibility for qualified persons with disabilities as defined by Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and by the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990 and the ADA Amendments Act of 2008. Specifically, the Center for Disability Services coordinates support services for such students and is an accommodation resource for faculty. Specialized services provide students with disabilities complete access to all academic and campus programs. Eligibility for services requires documentation of the disability. Students with disabilities or applicants for admission who need accommodations or modifications in policies, practices or procedures must register with the Center for Disability Services (334-244-3631) and provide any requested documentation.

Drug-Free Campus and Workplace Policy
The unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession or use of illicit drugs or alcohol by students or employees is prohibited at any time on any university property or at any university activity. No employee who is impaired by an illegal drug or by alcohol will report for work or will work or be present in the workplace. No student impaired by illegal drugs or alcohol will attend classes or any university activity.

The university will impose sanctions (consistent with local, state and federal law) upon all employees and students who violate these standards of conduct. Sanctions may include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Referral for prosecution
- Probation, suspension or expulsion of students
- Suspension or termination of employees

The complete Drug-Free Campus and Workplace Policy can be found in the student handbook.

Harassment Policy
In accordance with applicable federal and state law, Auburn University at Montgomery complies with all regulations regarding unlawful discrimination against or harassment of its students. Any form of discrimination or harassment related to a student’s race, color, sex, religion, national origin, age, sexual orientation, transsexualism, genetic information, military status or disability (protected status) is a violation of University policy. This policy is intended to cover any prohibited harassment of or discrimination against a student by other students, employees, or University agents.

This policy also covers harassment of students by non-employees on University property or while engaged in University-sponsored activities, as well as prohibited discrimination against students by University contractors. Student-on-student complaints of sexual harassment or sexual misconduct, up to and including sexual assault, will be handled according to the University’s Title IX Policy and Procedures for Student Sex Discrimination.

Harassment in academic settings and in the employment arena where students are involved is defined as: conduct (physical, verbal, graphic, written, or electronic) that is (1) unwelcome; (2) discriminatory on the basis of protected status; (3) directed at an individual or group in one of the protected status outlined in this policy; and (4) so severe or pervasive and objectively offensive that it unreasonably interferes with the victim’s ability to participate in or to realize the intended benefits of an institutional activity, opportunity, or resource, unreasonably interferes with the victim’s work or living environment, or deprives the victim of some other protected right.

Students who believe they have been victims of discrimination or harassment should report the incidents to the Vice Chancellor of Student Affairs at 334-244-3620.

Civil Rights Compliance
AUM is an equal opportunity/equal access educational institution and operates without regard to race, sex, color, age, religion, national origin, disability or veteran status. The university complies with the regulations of Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Age Discrimination Act, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Sections 503/504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Vietnam Era Veterans Readjustment Assistance Act and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990. Any employee wishing to file a complaint covered by the above should contact the EEOC/Affirmative Action officer in the Human Resources Office, 705 Library Tower, at 334-244-3253 between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Any student wishing to file a complaint covered by the above should contact the Vice Chancellor of Student Affairs, 157 Taylor Center, at 334-244-3620 between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Equal Employment Opportunities
It is the policy of AUM to provide equal employment opportunities for all individuals without regard to race, sex, age, religion, color, national origin, disability or veteran status. Anyone wishing to file a complaint covered by the above should contact the EEOC/Affirmative Action officer in the Human Resources Office, Library Tower 705, at 334-244-3253 between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Smoking
Smoking of tobacco in AUM facilities is prohibited except where signs are posted indicating otherwise. The complete smoking policy can be found in the student handbook.

Weapons
AUM prohibits the possession, use and transportation on university properties of any dangerous or potentially dangerous weapons, including fixed-blade knives, shotguns, rifles, handguns, bows and arrows, crossbows, brass knuckles, air guns, swords and fireworks or explosive devices. The complete weapons policy can be found in the student handbook.

Student Educational Records Policy
The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) affords students certain rights with respect to their education records. These rights include:

1. The right to inspect and review the student’s education records within 45 days of the day the university receives a request for access. Students should submit to the registrar, dean, head of the academic department or other appropriate official a written request identifying the record(s) they wish to inspect. The university official will make arrangements for access and notify them of the time and place where the record(s) may be inspected. If the record(s) is not maintained by the university official to whom the request was submitted, that official shall advise the student of the correct official to whom the request should be addressed.

2. The right to request the amendment of the education records that the student believes is inaccurate, misleading or otherwise in violation of the student’s privacy rights under FERPA. A student may ask the university to amend a record by writing to the university official responsible for the record, clearly identifying the part of the record the student wants changed and specifying why it should be changed. If the university decides not to amend the record as requested, it will notify the student in writing of the decision and advise the student of his or her right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.

3. The right to provide written consent before the university discloses personally identifiable information for the student’s education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.
   a. The university, without consent, discloses records to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official is defined as a person employed by the university in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research or support staff position (including law enforcement and health staff); a person with whom the university has contracted as its agent to provide a service instead of using university employees or officials (such as an attorney, auditor or collection agent); a person serving on the Board of Trustees; or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks. A school official has a legitimate education interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibilities for the university.

b. At its discretion, Auburn University at Montgomery may provide “directory information.” Directory information is defined as that information which would not generally be considered harmful or an invasion of privacy if disclosed. Designated directory information at AUM includes the following:

i. Student’s name
ii. Address
iii. Telephone listing
iv. Electronic mail address
v. Photograph
vi. Date and place of birth
vii. Major field of study viii. Dates of attendance
ix. Grade level
x. Enrollment status (e.g. undergraduate or graduate, full-time or part-time)
xi. Participation in officially recognized sports
xii. Weight and height of members of athletic teams xiii. Degrees, honors and awards received
xiv. Most recent educational agency or institution attended

c. Students may block the public disclosure of directory information by notifying the Office of the Registrar in writing.

i. Please consider very carefully the consequences of a decision to withhold directory information. A non-disclosure block will call for AUM not to release any of this “directory information;” thus, any future request for such information from non-institutional persons or organizations will be refused. AUM will honor your request to withhold directory information but cannot assume responsibility to contact you for subsequent permission to release this information. Regardless of the effect upon you, AUM assumes no liability as a result of honoring your instructions that such information be withheld. Although the initial request may be filed at any time, request for non-disclosure will be honored by the university until removed, in writing, by the student.

d. Upon request, the university may also disclose education records without consent to officials of another school in which a student seeks or intends to enroll.

4. The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by the university to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The office that administers FERPA is:

Family Policy Compliance Office
U.S. Department of Education
400 Maryland Avenue, SW
Washington, DC 20202-5920

■ General Information

Medical Treatment for AUM Students
The AUM Student Health Services is available for students seeking treatment for minor medical problems. Preventive services are also offered. Student Health Services is located in Room 102 of Moore Hall, in the School of Nursing building. Students are asked to present their current student ID when they arrive for treatment. Medical problems are treated at a base cost of $5 for students and additional services (i.e., physicals, vaccines) are available at additional costs. In rare instances, students may need to be referred to an emergency room or the physician of their choice at the student’s expense. Student Health Services is open from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, and appointments are available at set times when classes are in session. Students are encouraged to make appointments by calling 334-244-3281.

Health insurance is highly recommended to all students attending AUM to cover accidents and emergency illnesses. If you are not covered under an insurance program you are encouraged to participate in the voluntary low-cost student health insurance program available to enrolled AUM students. Call the Division of Student Affairs at 334-244-3620 for more information. TDD users may call 334-244-3801. Please note: At this time, Student Health Services is only able to accept cash or checks as forms of payment.

Student Government Association
The Student Government Association (SGA) is composed of AUM students of all majors and rankings. Each enrolled AUM student is a member of the Student Government Association, which is the official governing body of the students. The SGA serves the university by representing the entire spectrum of the student body, organizing and directing student concerns through proper channels, and working to provide students with the resources they need to succeed. Through the SGA, students are involved in the decision-making process of the university. In addition, the SGA cultivates students to become successful peer leaders by promoting academic and social engagement of AUM students. The SGA works in partnership with many university and community committees and organizations and encourages student involvement in student activities and campus initiatives.
Additional information about the Student Government Association can be found on the SGA webpage on the AUM website, or by contacting the SGA Office at 334-244-3566.

Athletics
AUM offers a comprehensive program for student athletes who wish to participate in intercollegiate athletics. Men’s varsity sports include baseball, basketball, cross-country, soccer and tennis. Women’s varsity sports include basketball, cross-country, soccer, softball and tennis.

AUM men and women participate in the Southern States Athletic Conference (SSAC) under the direction of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA).

Intramurals
AUM offers a diverse intramural program. Students may choose to participate in basketball, coed softball, flag football and various other athletic and non-athletic competitions for both men and women. For more information, call 334-244-3933.

Auburn Montgomery Alumni Association
The Auburn Montgomery Alumni Association was established in 1979. More than 30,000 alumni have graduated from AUM. When you join the Auburn Montgomery Alumni Association, you are in good company. You are part of a group of friends and family who play a vital role in making Auburn Montgomery an even stronger university. The alumni association has awarded more than $200,000 in scholarships and also funds a professorship that recognizes and helps retain dedicated, exceptional professors.

All former students, alumni and friends of the university may join the association as either an annual member for $35 or lifetime member for $500 (this may be paid at once or given over a five-year period). Student memberships are also available at a discounted rate. In addition to membership, your annual fund participation helps the university meet unrestricted needs, provide scholarships and enhance educational programs.

Your membership supports Auburn Montgomery and its programs but members benefit also. Members may participate with Auburn Montgomery friends in events that bring the family closer together and also receive these advantages:
- Access to the Auburn University and Auburn Montgomery Alumni Hospitality Tent, which offers food and entertainment during the Auburn football season. The tent opens three hours prior to every home game and is free to all members.
- Job placement and résumé assistance from the Auburn Montgomery Career Development Center.
- Access to the Auburn Montgomery Library.
- Use of on-campus computer labs for internet access and software programs.
- A $10 discount on Continuing Education courses.
- A 10 percent discount at the Auburn Montgomery bookstore, including textbooks.
- Half-price admission to Auburn Montgomery sporting events.
- Free admission for you and a guest to Theatre AUM productions.
- Option to join the AUM Wellness Center

For more information regarding the alumni association please visit www.aum.edu/alumni.

Student Email Policy
At Auburn Montgomery, email is the official medium for communicating with students. All students are responsible for checking their AUM issued email accounts in a timely fashion and on a regular basis. The official email system for students is identified by username@aum.edu and can be accessed via the AUM website.

University Academic Regulations and Policies
Students must comply with regulations and follow procedures prescribed by the university. Regulations relating to registration, class attendance, grading system, examinations, degree requirements, honors and other academic matters are presented in the following pages. It is the student's responsibility to comply with his or her specific program requirements. Please see an advisor in the school of your major for specific program requirements.

The university reserves the right to change or modify the curriculum, admission standards, course content, degree requirements, regulations, tuition or fees at any time without prior notice. The information in this catalog is not to be regarded as creating a binding contract between the student and the university.

Catalog of Concern
A student will be bound by the program requirements published in the catalog in effect at the time of his or her first registration at the university and in consideration of his or her valid admission to a program unless:
1. The student has not attended AUM for a period of one continuous calendar year, in which case the catalog in effect at the time of the student’s return and registration will be the catalog of concern
2. The university changes program requirements while the student is attending, in which case the student will be given the option of choosing which program requirements he or she desires to pursue (either those of the initial catalog of concern or those of the new program)
3. The student decides to change program and/or major, in which case the catalog in effect at the time of the change will be the catalog of concern
Administrative Holds
A student may be denied the opportunity to register or make schedule adjustments, use university facilities or be issued an official transcript, statement of credits or diploma if he or she has been identified as having significant academic deficiencies, is in default or is identified as being in default on any payment, has not submitted required documents, has not met Discipline Committee sanctions or is otherwise in default by virtue of fees or property owed to the university or any of its schools or divisions. Administrative holds may be placed on students by units such as the provosts office, admissions, bookstore, cashier, financial aid, housing, library, registrar or campus police.

Advising
It is the student’s responsibility to meet with his or her academic advisor and/or graduate coordinator for guidance in selecting courses that comply with his or her specific program requirements. It is the student’s responsibility to ensure that degree requirements are met.

Attendance
Students are expected to attend punctually every lecture, laboratory exercise and other classroom activity. Each instructor can indicate additional attendance requirements in his or her syllabus. Attendance verification is required for the first three classes to comply with federal financial aid requirements. Instructors must also report the “last date attended” for students who stop attending class and do not complete the withdrawal process. The complete class attendance policy can be found in the student handbook.

Auditing Privilege
The privilege of auditing courses is restricted. Auditing of a lecture course or the lecture part of a combined lecture and laboratory course may be granted with the approval of the student’s dean and the head of the department in which the course is offered. The auditing privilege is rarely permitted in laboratory or combined lecture and laboratory courses.

Auditors must complete the regular admission and registration process. They are listed on class rolls, but they are not required to participate in classroom discussions, take tests or final examinations or make reports. However, regular attendance at class meetings is required. The grade of AU (Audit) is awarded to those not meeting the attendance requirement. Auditors who have not been admitted to the university must apply through the Office of Admissions. Auditors who are not regularly enrolled students will register on the last day of the final registration period. A fee will be charged for auditing a course. Regularly enrolled students carrying 12 hours or more and members of the faculty and staff may audit lecture courses without payment of the auditing fee with approval of the head of the department in which the course is offered and the dean; however, the regular registration process must be completed.

ID Card
Each student must have an AUM ID (identification) card. ID cards may be obtained through the bookstore, 334-244-3578.

Registration
Every student is required to be registered at AUM when taking course work, in the term of graduation, in any term in which the student is clearing an Incomplete grade, when working on a graduate thesis, when engaged in any other endeavor relating to normal progress as a student or when use is made of the instructional staff and/or facilities of the university.

A student is considered registered when his or her class schedule is entered into the Banner system. A student is responsible for all tuition and fees at this point. If a student wishes to resign or withdraw from all or any of the courses, he or she must follow the procedures for resignation/withdrawal identified in this catalog.

Late Registration
After the date specified in the AUM calendar as the last day for final registration, a late registration fee will be charged.

Schedule Adjustment
Add: A student may add a course prior to the second meeting of a traditional class. (Traditional classes are those that meet twice a week.) Any additions to the student’s schedule after the second class meeting must be approved by the head of the department in which the course is offered. No student will be permitted to register after the day identified as the last day for refunds in the applicable term.

Resignation: Resignation occurs when a student withdraws from all courses for which he or she is registered. If a student resigns prior to the day identified as the fifth day of classes, the courses will be deleted from the record. Resignation after classes have started on the sixth day will result in a student receiving a grade of W (Withdrawal).

The deadline for withdrawing from a course is specified in the academic calendar. In order to withdraw before the deadline, a student must complete the process in the school of his or her major/advisor. After the last day for refunds, a grade of W will be recorded on the student’s official academic record.

When a student, as a result of exceptional or emergency circumstances, is forced to withdraw from a course after the withdrawal date for the term, he or she may petition, in writing, the dean of the school in which the course is offered for a grade of W. A student may not withdraw from a course after the deadline if he or she is failing. The dean will contact the student’s instructor to determine the student’s scholastic standing at the time of the request to withdraw.
Examinations and Grades
Examinations are classified as final examinations, which occur at the end of each term; special examinations; and other course examinations as determined by the instructor. A student absent from an examination for any reason other than personal illness must obtain the permission of the instructor prior to the absence in order to take the examination at a later time. Grades in all subjects are reported to the student at the end of each term through WEBSTER.

Scope of Graduate Programs
AUM currently offers the following graduate degrees: the Master of Public Administration (M.P.A.); Master of Business Administration (M.B.A.); Master of Science in Information Systems Management (M.S.I.S.M.); Master of Political Science (M.P.S.); Master of Education (M.Ed.); Alternative Master of Education (M.Ed.); Master of Science in Justice and Public Safety (M.S.J.P.); Master of Science in Psychology (M.S.); Master of Liberal Arts (M.L.A.); Master of Science in Homeland Security and Emergency Management (M.S.); Master of Science in Cybersystems and Information Security (M.S.) and Education Specialist (Ed.S.).

In cooperation with Auburn University, AUM offers a Masters of Science (M.S.) in Sociology and a Masters of Arts (M.A.) in Sociology. AUM offers a joint Masters of Science in Nursing (M.S.N.) with Auburn University. AUM offers one joint doctoral program with Auburn University: the Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) in Public Administration and Public Policy.

The Master of Science in Homeland Security and Emergency Management is offered through the School of Sciences. This degree is ideal for those planning a career in law enforcement, the military, private security, hospital administration or security, public safety or emergency management. Students with a bachelor’s degree in any area are welcome.

The Master of Science in Cybersystems and Information Security is offered through the School of Sciences. This degree prepares students to become leaders in the field of information and network security, offering instruction and research opportunities that provide graduates with the necessary knowledge and skills to effectively assess, develop, and manage secure information networks and to respond to newly developed threats.

The Master of Public Administration (accredited by the National Association of Schools of Public Affairs and Administration) is offered through the School of Sciences. The objective of the Public Administration program is to provide those currently in public service and those seeking to enter public service with a broad education that will prepare them for general administrative positions at the municipal, state and national levels.

The Master of Business Administration program (accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business - International) is administered through the College of Business and is designed to prepare students for administrative positions in business, government and other organizations. The program of study consists of graduate courses based on a common core of subjects that examines the functions of the executive and the environment of the administrator. Beyond this core, the student may choose to study in some depth any of a number of particular fields of business administration and economics.

The Master of Science in Information Systems Management is administered through the College of Business and is designed to prepare students to become leaders and skilled managers within the realm of information systems and technology. The program will provide graduates with a broad knowledge of IS management skills, tools, and frameworks to effectively manage organizational information systems resources.

The Master of Education and the Education Specialist degrees (accredited by the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education) are offered by the School of Education. These programs are designed primarily for elementary and secondary teachers, school counselors and school administrators.

The Master of Political Science is available to students who desire a degree with broader disciplinary scope than public administration. Current courses emphasize American politics, comparative government and international relations.

The Master of Science in Justice and Public Safety is offered in the School of Sciences for students interested in professional careers in justice and the public safety field. Three options are available: Criminal Justice (MJP); Judicial Administration (MJL) (approved by the American Bar Association); Homeland Security and Emergency Management; and Executive Master’s in Justice and Public Safety. These programs prepare personnel for leadership roles with the police, courts, corrections and other justice and public safety agencies.

The Master of Science in Nursing is a joint program offered by Auburn University and AUM. There are currently two formal program options: Primary Care Nurse Practitioner and Nurse Educator. Graduates of the formal program options possess advanced knowledge in nursing science and in advanced nursing roles.

The Master of Science in Psychology is offered through the School of Sciences. The goal of the program is to provide advanced preparation for careers in psychology and related fields. Individuals interested in pursuing doctoral studies will have the opportunity to gain academic and research experiences. Those who want to be involved in the delivery and administration of psychological services will have the opportunity to learn practical skills.

The Master of Liberal Arts is administered through the School of Liberal Arts.
Interdisciplinary in nature, this program requires a concentration in at least two areas of the humanities and an exploration of the diversity of perspectives on the human experience represented in art, drama, geographic information systems, Spanish, history, literature, communication, music, philosophy, and sociology.

The Master of Arts in Sociology and Master of Science in Sociology degrees are offered through the interdepartmental program of the Auburn University Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Social Work; the Auburn University Department of Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology; and the AUM Department of Sociology. The shared program of intermediate level studies in sociology and anthropology is intended for persons interested in pursuing advanced doctoral degrees elsewhere or preparation for general administrative positions in a variety of places they have previously attended mail transcripts directly to AUM. Official electronic transcripts are also accepted. Applicants are also responsible for submitting official scores on the admission test that is specified by their department. It is the applicant’s responsibility to contact either the AUM Office of Graduate Studies or the specific school and inquire if additional admission requirements exist.

The following entrance examinations are specified by the schools:

A. The School of Education (all departments) requires either the general section of the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) or the Miller Analogies Test (MAT).

B. The College of Business requires the following:
   1. The Graduate Management Admissions Test (GMAT) for the Master of Business Administration and Executive Master of Business Administration
   2. The GMAT or the GRE for the Master of Science in Information Systems Management

C. The School of Sciences requires the following:
   1. The general section of the GRE or the MAT for the Master of Science in Justice and Public Safety.
   2. The Miller Analogies Test is the preferred examination for the Master of Science in Psychology. The GRE can be considered an alternate test for admission into Psychology. Also, a one-page letter of intent and two letters of recommendation are required for admission into Psychology.

D. The School of Liberal Arts requires the general section of the GRE or the MAT for the Master of Liberal Arts. Test requirements are waived for M.L.A. applicants who already have a master's degree.

There are time limits for entrance examination scores. The MAT, GRE and GMAT scores can only be considered if not over five (5) years old.

When all relevant documents have been collected by the Office of Graduate Studies, the applicant’s file will be transmitted to the graduate coordinator of the school offering the program for which the prospective student has applied. The graduate coordinator forwards the applicant’s file to the appropriate departmental screening committee. For those applying to the Ph.D. in Public Administration, the joint campus committee is the screening committee. Due to the dual campus nature of the Ph.D. program, applicants must meet the graduate admission requirements of the Auburn University and the University at Montgomery. Applications for the M.S.N. program in Nursing should apply through Auburn University. Applications for the M.S.N. program in Nursing should apply through Auburn University as well.

The screening committee will consider the applicant’s undergraduate academic record and scores on the required graduate entrance examination. The screening committee may request an interview with the applicant to further aid in the evaluation.

The screening committee uses a formula that weighs the undergraduate academic average and a graduate entrance examination score. On the basis of the formula and the other considerations enumerated above, the committee may recommend admission or denial of the applicant or may recommend that validating work be done before deciding on admission.

If the screening committee determines that the applicant is likely to be successful, the student is notified of his or her classification status and may begin attending AUM as a provisional or fully admitted graduate student.

Applications for admission to the graduate program should be received by the AUM Office of Graduate Studies four weeks prior to the beginning of the semester in which the student expects to begin work. Official transcripts from all institutions previously attended must be forwarded via the U.S. Postal Service from the appropriate registrar directly to the AUM Office of Graduate Studies.

Admission Requirements

Admission of International Students

AUM welcomes admission inquiries from international students. If an international student wishes to apply for admission to a graduate program, he or she should begin the process immediately. After a full evaluation, the prospective student will be notified of the admission decision. If the international student is currently in the United States, he or she must be “in status” according to U.S. immigration regulations before AUM can process the application. The following documents are required for an evaluation (those students requiring the issuance of an I-20/F-1 visa have additional requirements identified below):

1. A graduate application for admission completed at www.aum.edu/apply

2. Official transcripts from all schools previously attended (college level only); these transcripts, if not in English, must be translated into English by an official translation service (Note: Please submit course content descriptions of any courses for which you wish to receive transfer credit);

3. A course-by-course evaluation by a recognized, expert service or qualified AUM individual(s) in the field of foreign credential evaluations and international admissions. Please contact the Office of International Affairs for a list of approved credentials evaluators.

Exceptions:

a. Students enrolling in programs which are included in a contract between AUM and a foreign government/institution and/or U.S. military organization.

b. International students who have a bachelor’s or master’s degree from an accredited U.S. college or university.

4. Satisfactory completion of any one of the following:

   a. The Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL). The minimum acceptable score for admission is 500 for paper-based testing (including the Auburn or AUM Institutional TOEFL), 173 for computer-based testing and 61 for Internet-based testing. The TOEFL results should be sent directly to the international admissions officer by the testing agency and must not be more than two (2) years old.

   b. The International English Language Testing System (IELTS) test. The minimum acceptable score for admission is 5.0. IELTS results should be sent directly to the international admissions officer by the testing agency and must not be more than two (2) years old.

   c. Michigan English Language Assessment Battery (MELAB). The minimum acceptable score for admission is 69. MELAB results should be sent directly to the international admissions officer by the testing agency and must not be more than two (2) years old.

   d. Completion of an Auburn University at Montgomery English as a Second Language (ESL) program along with certification by the director of the ESL program that the student has achieved sufficient English proficiency for college level academic courses.

   e. Special International Student Admissions Committee: When an applicant does not meet the established AUM admissions criteria (including, but not limited to test scores reflecting English language proficiency) for a first-year, transfer or graduate student but has demonstrated potential for successful college work, the international admissions officer may refer him or her to the Special International Student Admissions Committee. This group is comprised of educators with extensive experience with international students and will include a faculty representative from the student’s prospective school of study. The committee’s primary charge is to evaluate the applicant’s potential for success at AUM, based on his or her current command of the English language and other factors important to student success. In order to make a recommendation, the group reviews and thoroughly discusses each applicant’s test scores, classroom accomplishments and interview performance. All applicants in this category must interview with the Special International Student Admissions Committee, which may recommend full university admission to the international admissions officer.

a. Students enrolling in programs included in a contract between AUM and a foreign government/institution and/or U.S. military organization.

b. International students who have satisfactorily completed a bachelor’s or master’s degree at an accredited U.S. college or university.

c. International students who have satisfactorily completed the equivalent of a bachelor’s or master’s degree in a country or institution where English is the primary language and international students who have satisfactorily completed the equivalent of a U.S. secondary diploma or have satisfactorily completed the equivalent of AUM English composition requirements in a country or at an institution where English is the primary language. Countries included in this exception are Anguilla, Antarctica (British), Antigua, Australia, Bahamas, Barbados, Belize, Bermuda, Bophuthatswana, Botswana, Brunei, Canada, Cayman Islands, Channel Islands, Ciskei, Cyprus, Dominica, Ireland, Falkland Islands, Fiji, Gambia, Ghana, Gibraltar, Grenada, Guyana, India, Indian Ocean Territories (British), Jamaica, Kenya, Kiribati, Lesotho, Liberia, Malawi, Malta, Mauritius, Namibia (South West Africa), Nauru, New Zealand, Nigeria, Pakistan, Papua New Guinea, Philippines, Sierra Leone, Singapore, Solomon Islands (British), South Africa, Sri Lanka, St. Lucia, St. Vincent, Swaziland, Transkei, Tanzania, Tobago, Tonga, Trinidad, Tuvalu, Uganda, United Kingdom, Venda, Virgin Islands (British), Vatican City, Western Samoa, Zambia and Zimbabwe (Southern Rhodesia).

d. International students who have scored at least 488 on the paper-based TOEFL or 57 on the Internet-based TOEFL can be admitted into AUM, but they will take a combined load of undergraduate courses, including appropriate English as a Second Language (ESL) courses. Students will continue with ESL courses until they meet any one of the criteria listed in 4. a. through e.

5. Satisfactory results on one of the graduate entrance examinations: The College of Business requires a minimum score of 400 on the General Management Aptitude Test (GMAT). The Schools of Education, Liberal Arts and Sciences require either the general section of the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) or the Miller Analogies Test (MAT).

6. Specific academic programs might have additional requirements for admission. Contact individual schools for school-specific admission requirements for their respective degree programs.

Note: Students who do not meet the TOEFL and/or any other requirement for full admission to an AUM academic program may apply for admission to the AUM English as a Second Language (ESL) program. Please visit the AUM ESL website at http://ce.aum.edu/english-as-a-second-language/ for application information:

International Students Requiring the Issuance of an I-20/F-1 Visa

International graduate students who will be attending AUM on an I-20/F-1 (student) visa, including those transferring from another accredited U.S. college or university, must meet all of the requirements identified above and also provide the following documentation:

1. Evidence in the form of a notarized or certified letter from a bank or other financial institution of sufficient financial resources to meet college expenses for the first year of study. If a sponsor’s account is used, a letter from the sponsor stating the intent to assist with the student’s educational expenses is also required. International students will be required to pay non-resident tuition.

2. Proof of Health and Repatriation Insurance. If the student does not have Health and Repatriation Insurance, he or she must purchase and maintain such coverage while attending AUM. AUM’s Office of the Provost can provide information regarding the coverage. For more information about the Auburn/AUM Student Insurance Plan visit www.UHCSR.com.

Admission Process

1. All documentation for issuance of I-20s and/or admission must be received in the AUM Office of International Education Services at least 30 days prior to the beginning of the term for which the student wishes to enroll.

2. If the evaluation indicates the student can be admitted to AUM, he or she will be sent an acceptance notice and an I-20 (if appropriate). A student who receives the I-20 should complete the student section of the form and present it to an American consulate in his or her country. (NOTE: F-1 international students may not be granted Provisional Admission or Probationary Admission classification. Students must be fully admitted to graduate school to enter the United States.)

3. If the student is a transfer student from a U.S. college or university or desires to change his or her course of study at AUM (including attaining a second or higher degree), the student must be issued a new I-20.

4. If the evaluation indicates that the student requires prerequisite undergraduate course work, an I-20 can be issued for that particular purpose. Once the student has satisfactorily completed the prerequisite work, another I-20 can be issued for the graduate program.
Enrollment Policies
An international student on an I-20/F-1 visa must attend AUM on a full-time basis in the program identified on the I-20. Full-time enrollment applies to undergraduate, graduate and English as a Second/Foreign Language programs. In addition, academic degree students must attend AUM for the fall and spring semesters during the year in order to remain in current status with U.S. immigration regulations. English as a Second/Foreign Language students must attend AUM for four consecutive ESL terms during the year in order to remain in current status with U.S. immigration regulations.

Employment Policies
The student issued an I-20 may accept employment at AUM without prior approval from the U.S. Immigration Service as soon as he or she is enrolled in a full-time program at AUM. On-campus employment undertaken pursuant to the terms of a scholarship, fellowship or assistantship is considered to be part of a student’s program of study if the student is in good academic standing and is enrolled in a full-time course of study. On-campus employment is limited and should not be relied upon to assist the student financially while attending AUM. In addition, on-campus employment is limited to a maximum of 20 hours per week when school is in session and also limited to employment performed on the school’s premises.

Off-campus employment is specifically prohibited during the first two semesters of continuous, full-time enrollment in F-1 student status. After the first year, an F-1 student may apply for Optional Practical Training (OPT) or Curricular Practical Training (CPT). Employment must be directly related to the field of study and for CPT must be an integral part of the student’s curriculum. A student may also apply for economic hardship work permission, which requires demonstration of economic necessity due to unforeseen circumstances arising subsequent to arrival in the United States. In all cases, the student must be in good academic standing and must demonstrate that acceptance of employment will not interfere with a full-time course load.

Responsibility
It is the international student’s responsibility to ensure that he or she is in status in accordance with U.S. immigration regulations and that the I-20 has the necessary signature each time the student desires to temporarily leave the United States.

Alabama and Non-Alabama Student Policy
For the purpose of assessing fees, applicants shall be classified as Alabama or non-Alabama students. Non-Alabama students are required to pay a non-resident tuition fee. All students registering at Auburn University at Montgomery (AUM) who come to the state of Alabama from another state for the purpose of attending school will be considered a “non-resident student” for tuition purposes. Classification of students as a non-resident shall be made at the time of their initial admission to the university and the non-resident status shall continue unchanged through all registrations at the university until and unless satisfactory evidence is provided supporting that the student’s reason for coming to and remaining in the state has changed. Documents which are at least one (1) year old from the date of issue are often, but not always, more probative than those that are less than one year old. In determining Alabama student status for purposes of assessing fees, the burden of proof is on the applicant.

A “resident student” is one who, at the time of admission to the university:
• Is not a “minor” and is a resident of the state of Alabama and has been a resident of the state for at least 12 consecutive months immediately preceding the date of registration;
• Is a “minor” and whose “supporting person(s)” is a resident of the state of Alabama and has been a resident of the state for at least 12 consecutive months immediately preceding the date of registration;
• One who, at the time of registration, is not a “minor” and:
  • Is a full-time, permanent employee of AUM or is the spouse of such an employee;
  • Can verify full-time permanent employment within the State of Alabama or is the spouse of such an employee and will commence said employment within 90 days of registration with the institution;
  • Is a spouse by legal marriage of a bona fide Alabama resident;
  • Is a member or the spouse of a member of the United States military on full-time active duty stationed in Alabama under orders for duties other than attending school; (Members of the National Guard or Reserves are not included in this provision);
  • Has been a member of the Alabama National Guard for a period of at least two years immediately preceding the student qualifying for resident tuition and continues to be a member of the Alabama National Guard while enrolled at the public institution of higher education;
  • Is an accredited member or the spouse of an accredited member of a consular staff assigned to duties in Alabama;
  • Is a non-resident undergraduate student who has been awarded a full-time academic, athletic or other similar performance tuition scholarship by AUM, or a graduate student appointed on assistantships of at least one-fourth time;
  • Is a non-resident student enrolled in programs included in the Southern Regional Education Board Academic Common Market, provided the student does not change to another program that does not fall under this category. In a case of change, the student will be classified as nonresident for tuition purposes; OR
  • One who, at the time of registration, is a “minor” and whose “supporting person(s)”:
    • Is a full-time, permanent employee of AUM;
    • Can verify full-time permanent employment within the State of Auburn University at Montgomery

Alabama and will commence said employment within 90 days of student's registration with AUM;

- Is a member of the United States military on full-time active duty stationed in Alabama under orders for duties other than attending school (members of the National Guard or Reserves are not included in this provision);
- Is an accredited member of a consular staff assigned to duties in Alabama.

A non-resident student is one who does not meet the criteria for a “resident student” as specified in the preceding section.

Questions regarding resident and non-resident status for tuition change purposes should be directed to Auburn University at Montgomery, Office of Graduate Admissions, PO Box 244023, Montgomery, AL 36124-4023 or by visiting us on the web at http://www.aum.edu/admissions/residency-requirements.

Student Classification

Classification GR: Full admission to graduate program for the purpose of earning a master’s degree. The Auburn University classification is MST.

Classification PB: Academic probationary classification. Student does not satisfy all admission requirements and is admitted for 12 semester hours of specified provisional work. If an average of 3.0 is achieved in those 12 hours, the student is given full admission. The 12 hours of work will apply to the degree requirements. Failure to meet the 3.0 average in the 12-hour period will result in denial of full admission to the program. A registration hold is placed on students with a probationary classification for monitoring purposes. The PB classification will be used for a returning student who has been released due to grade deficiency. Upon returning to do validating work or to prove his or her capability to do graduate work, the student will be issued a PB. If the student does not obtain a 3.0 GPA in 12 semester hours, the student is released from graduate study.

Classification PV: Administrative provisional classification. Certain documents are missing (e.g., admission test scores, transcripts or teaching certificate). Normally, the student must remove the PV classification within the first term of graduate work in order to register for the second term. A registration hold is placed on all students with a provisional classification. (Note: The School of Business has limited use of this classification. All business students must complete the GMAT before they can be admitted to graduate study.)

Classification UN

Non-candidate Status: Student holds master’s degree from an approved institution. The UN classification is used only for validating purposes. Courses taken as a UN shall not apply for degree credit. Upon completion of successful validation, the department head and departmental screening committee shall review the work to determine the assignment of an appropriate classification.

Classification PV-Ed.S.: Provisional classification in the graduate program for the purpose of earning an Ed.S. degree.

Classification GR-Ed.S.: Full admission to the graduate program for the purpose of earning an Ed.S. degree.

Classification TR: Transient status. A student is assigned a TR classification when he or she is enrolled at another campus but is attending AUM for the purpose of acquiring credit that will be transferred back to his or her home campus. The TR is used for both graduate and undergraduate students.

Graduate Program Requirements

Graduate programs have varying amounts of minimum credit required for graduation. (See appropriate section of this catalog for specific departmental requirements). All programs are designed to provide students with the depth of knowledge, skills, theoretical insights and leadership necessary for responsible positions in government, business or education. All graduate work taken to satisfy degree requirements may be completed on a full-time or part-time basis.

A foreign language is not required for completion of the master’s degree and Ed.S. degree. The M.L.A. has a thesis requirement and the programs of Justice and Public Safety, Psychology and Education each have a thesis option. All programs require satisfactory completion of the appropriate comprehensive examination or evaluation prepared by a committee in the academic department or school offering the degree. All programs have broadly defined requirements for admission regarding the undergraduate preparation of the student. These requirements are located in each school. In addition, program plans that include specific courses are available in the schools.

Graduate courses available at AUM are numbered 5000 or above and are open to those students who have obtained graduate standing. All graduate level courses have as prerequisites either specific courses or graduate standing. Under special conditions, an undergraduate student may attempt graduate study. (See provision under Transfer of Credit.)
Correspondence Work
Study by correspondence shall not be counted toward a graduate degree.

Course Load
Twelve semester hours of work per semester is the maximum course load to be taken by full-time graduate students. Graduate students must take nine (9) or more graduate hours per semester to be classified as full-time students. Under special circumstances, a student may request a waiver to take up to 15 graduate hours per semester.

Evaluating Successful Degree Progression of Students
Graduate students deemed not to be making satisfactory progress toward their degree may be dropped from the graduate program. Issues of professional and personal development (other than minimal grade point average) may be considered in determining satisfactory progress toward the degree.

Grade Requirements
All graduate students must maintain a grade-point average of 3.0 or higher (on a 4.0 scale) on all graduate work taken. No grade below C will be accepted for graduate credit, but grades on all AUM courses carrying graduate credit will be used in determining the overall average unless the advisor designates to the Registrar’s Office prior to the registration for the course that courses are designated to be taken without graduate credit. Graduate students must repeat any course carrying graduate credit in which a grade of less than C is earned unless the course is specifically identified by the advisor prior to the student’s registration as a course not to be used for degree credit.

A student has 9 hours beyond the prescribed course of study to acquire the 3.0 GPA. When a course is retaken, both grades are retained on the transcript and are used in the calculation of the GPA for graduate programs. The computed GPA is the graduation GPA in the graduate program.

When a student’s AUM GPA drops below 2.51 or has three posted academic warnings, he or she may be required to withdraw from the graduate program.

Final grades are assigned as follows: A, B, C, D, F, FA, S, U, CR, NC, P, I, IP, W, AU and NR. The following explanations and grade points apply:

- A = passing and 4 quality points per hour attempted.
- B = passing and 3 quality points per hour attempted.
- C = passing and 2 quality points per hour attempted.
- D = passing and 1 quality point per hour attempted.
- F = failure and 0 quality points per hour attempted.
- FA = failure due to absence and 0 quality points per hour attempted.
- S = passing and 0 quality points, but the hours attempted are not included in grade point average determination.
- U = failure and 0 quality points but the hours attempted are not included in grade point average determination.
- CR = passing for developmental course work and 0 quality points, but the hours attempted are included in grade point determinations.
- NC = failure for developmental course work and 0 quality points, but the hours attempted are not included in grade point determinations.
- P = passing for nontraditional course work and 0 quality points, but the hours attempted are not included in grade point determinations.
- I = incomplete and 0 quality points per hour attempted until resolution and a final grade is assigned. A two-year statute of limitations exists for grade changes.
- IP = in progress and 0 quality points, but the hours attempted are not included in grade point determinations. This grade is used only for AUM courses currently in progress, courses for which the student has preregistered and for students who have cross-enrolled at another institution but the final grades have not yet been received.
- W = withdrawal and 0 quality points, but the hours attempted are not included in grade point average determination.
- AU = audit with 0 quality points and 0 hours attempted.
- NR = no grade reported (administrative procedure) and also used for audit students not meeting the attendance requirement.

The grade of Incomplete is not a right exercised by the student. A grade of Incomplete can be assigned only at the discretion of the instructor and may occur when the quality of work has been of passing grade, but the student has been prevented by illness or other justifiable cause from completing the work required prior to the final examination.

A student must be registered at the university during the semester in which an Incomplete grade is being resolved. The student should not register for that course again on a credit basis (but can register for it on an audit basis). If the student is not registered for any other courses during the semester of resolution of the Incomplete, the student should register for REGL 1110, “For Registration Only.”

Grades of Incomplete must be rectified within two years following the assignment of the grade. Grades of Incomplete will be counted as C grades in determining eligibility for continuation in graduate school. Students will not be permitted to graduate with Incomplete grades; these will be changed to F (Failure).

A grade of Failure Due to Absence (FA) will be assigned if a student has excessive absences or is absent from a special or final examination.

Students have two calendar years from the last day of the term in which a grade was assigned for any changes in course grades. Grades assigned prior to the awarding of a degree cannot be changed after the degree has been awarded.
Time Limit
All graduate work toward a master’s degree and Ed.S. degree (including credit transferred from another graduate program) must be completed within five calendar years. However, time spent in active military service because of a national emergency will not be counted in the application of this regulation whenever the national emergency requires that the student be temporarily relocated. The time limit for the joint Ph.D. program in public administration is governed by the Auburn University graduate catalog. A student who expects to exceed the five-year time limit on a graduate degree may ask for an extension if he or she will complete the degree in six calendar years. An extension is not automatic and the student must show and document exigencies that precluded finishing graduate study within five years.

Transfer of Credit
No more than six (6) semester hours or three courses of graduate work not to exceed six (6) semester hours can be transferred into a graduate program at AUM. To transfer such work, a student must have been admitted to a graduate degree program in the institution at which the work was taken. Such credit will not be accepted until the student has successfully completed nine (9) hours of work in the graduate program at AUM. Credit accepted after the required nine (9) hours of work at AUM must be acceptable to the student’s advisor and to the dean in the appropriate school. The work must be pertinent to the student’s plan of study and be within the five-year time limit. A student who has completed a master’s degree or a professional degree may request that 6 hours of credit be transferred to or within AUM. It is the student’s responsibility to apply for such credit and to apply for official transcripts of such work.

Credit may not be allowed when the cumulative grade point average on graduate or professional work taken elsewhere is less than 3.0 (B average), nor may transfer credit be used to improve the grade point average on courses taken at AUM.

An AUM undergraduate who is within six (6) semester hours of graduation may, with proper approval, register for graduate courses during his or her last term of undergraduate work (senior privilege). If the student is accepted into one of the graduate programs upon graduation, such graduate course work taken as an undergraduate may be applied to the master’s degree. Approval of an undergraduate student to take graduate courses in no way constitutes admission to a graduate program. Graduate work taken by an undergraduate student may not be applied to the baccalaureate degree. Rules for transferring credit into the graduate program under the above conditions are the same rules regarding all transfers of graduate credit, for example, time limit and GPA. Permission is required from the undergraduate advisor for this procedure.

Under special consideration by the Office of Graduate Studies and with school and departmental approval, a student earning a master’s degree at AUM may take up to half of his or her course work at Auburn University or at one of the University of Alabama system campuses (UA, UAB, UAH). Courses taken under provisions must be approved in advance by the appropriate dean and department head. Issues of school or departmental accreditation must be considered when course transfers are proposed.

Transient Work
A student enrolled in an AUM graduate program who wishes to take course work at another accredited university may do so with permission. The student must be in good academic graduate standing. The work taken at another institution must not exceed six semester hours. Transient work taken after admission to a program and transfer work taken prior to admission to a program should not, when combined, exceed six semester hours. Transient course credit taken at another university will be brought into the AUM system via the Transfer of Graduate Credit form.

A graduate student from another campus desiring to take graduate courses in a transient status at AUM must have a document of good graduate standing and a transcript from his or her home institution. The transient form is used by AUM’s Graduate Admissions Office as the admitting document for one semester of transient work.

Academic Honesty Code
Students are expected to maintain academic honesty and integrity in all work pursued at AUM. Students should not condone violations of academic honesty and should act to prevent opportunities for violations. Violations of the academic honesty code are defined as follows:

1. The possession, receipt or use of any material or assistance not authorized in the preparation of any essay, laboratory report, examination or class assignment, to be submitted for credit as a part of a course or to be submitted in fulfillment of a university requirement
2. The possession, receipt or use of unauthorized material while an exam or quiz is in progress
3. Knowingly giving unauthorized assistance to another person during an examination or other graded or credit activities
4. Selling, giving, lending or otherwise furnishing to any other person any unauthorized material which can be shown to contain the questions or answers to any examination scheduled to be given at some subsequent date in any course of study, excluding questions and answers from tests previously administered and returned to a student by the instructor
5. The submission of themes, essays, term papers, design projects, theses and dissertations, similar requirements, or parts thereof, that are not the work of the student submitting them. In the case of a graduate thesis or dissertation, submission is defined as the time at which the first complete draft of such is submitted to the major professor for review. Plagiarism is a violation of this code. When the ideas of another are incorporated into a paper, they must be appropriately acknowledged. In starkest terms, plagiarism is stealing - using the words or ideas of another as if they were...
one’s own. For example, if another person’s complete sentence, syntax, key words or the specific or unique ideas and information are used, one must give that person credit through proper documentation or recognition, as through the use of footnotes.

6. Altering or attempting to alter an assigned grade on any official Auburn University at Montgomery record. This violation may also be subject to review and action by the Committee on Discipline.

7. An instructor may delineate in advance and in writing other actions he or she considers a violation of the code. For example, the instructor may consider dishonest or unethical the submission of papers substantially the same in content for credit in more than one course, unless specific permission has been given in advance. Actions so delineated must be reasonable and in the spirit of the Student Academic Honesty Code.

8. Altering or misusing a document (e.g., university forms, physician’s excuse) for academic purposes. This violation may also be subject to review and action by the Committee on Discipline.

9. Knowingly submitting a paper, report, examination or any class assignment which has been altered or corrected, in part or in whole, for re-evaluation or re-grading without the consent of the instructor.

10. Serving as or enlisting the assistance of another as a substitute in the taking of examinations.

Presenting false data or intentionally misrepresenting one’s record for admission, registration, graduation or withdrawal from the university or from a university course is also considered a violation of the Academic Honesty Code. Any instances in violation of academic honesty shall be processed in accordance with the procedures outlined in the AUM student handbook under the title "Academic Honesty Code."

Discipline

Each student, by act of registration, agrees to conform to all rules and regulations of the university.

Applying for Graduation

AUM students who are nearing completion of their degree requirements must apply for graduation no later than the first week of the term in which they intend to graduate. A student must hold the GR classification to be awarded a master’s degree and the GREDS classification to be awarded the Ed.S. degree at AUM.

Application may be made online at www.aum.edu. The graduation fee will be billed to the student’s account. University regulations require that all degree candidates be enrolled during the term of their graduation. If a student fails to graduate in the term for which application is made, the candidate must reapply to graduate in a subsequent term. (The graduation fee will not be charged again.)

Deadlines for application are available online and in the Registrar’s Office.

Graduate Work in the College of Business

The mission of AUM’s College of Business is to provide a comprehensive, rigorous undergraduate and graduate business education supported by research and service activities. We:

1. Offer student-centered programs accessible to a diverse student body drawn primarily from Central Alabama.
2. Prepare students for lifetime learning and success in their careers by facilitating the acquisition of business knowledge, increasing global awareness and developing critical thinking, decision-making, team communication and analytical skills.

3. Engage in the development and transfer of information, knowledge and viewpoints via research, professional development and other activities.

4. Serve the greater Montgomery area through activities that enhance the effectiveness of business, government, nonprofit and professional organizations.

Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB) - International Accreditation

The degree programs, both undergraduate and graduate, offered by the College of Business have achieved business accreditation by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB) International, the nation’s oldest and most prestigious business school accrediting body. In addition, the undergraduate accounting program has received separate AACSB accounting accreditation, which is an honor held by only one percent of schools worldwide.

Graduate Study Requirements

Students must meet all AUM graduate program requirements. Additional requirements of the College of Business are listed below.

A grade average of at least B in all courses attempted in the student’s graduate program is required for graduation. At least 70 percent of the total program must be passed with at least a B. Any grade below C is considered a failure in meeting the course requirements.

The normal load will be nine (9) hours per semester. Course loads in excess of nine (9) hours must be approved by the dean. A maximum of six (6) semester hours of credit obtained in another institution accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business may be transferred to AUM. This credit will be transferred after nine (9) semester hours of core program work have been completed at AUM.

All candidates not achieving a 3.25 GPA (on a 4.0 scale) in course work beyond the basic program must pass a comprehensive examination in order to complete the degree requirements. Appropriate departments in the College of Business will be represented on the examining committee. All candidates for graduation will be notified in writing of the date and time of the examination. A student may not take the comprehensive examination until any grade-point deficiencies are overcome and grades of I (incomplete) are removed. If the student fails the examination, he or she may take it when scheduled in the following semester. A student may take the comprehensive examination up to three times. Exceptions to requirements may be made only with the approval of the dean.

All degrees requirements must be completed within five calendar years from the date the student begins graduate study. Students are expected to make appropriate arrangements with their employers to meet classes on time, avoid absences due to out-of-town travel and provide sufficient time to do library work, computer lab work and group assignments as required.

It is the responsibility of the student to notify the College of Business of his or her expected graduation date one semester prior to graduation. At this time, the student will pay a graduation fee and fill out the diploma applications. Arrangements for the master’s comprehensive examination will be made at the beginning of the semester in which the student expects to graduate. A student should register for the comprehensive exam even if a comp waiver is expected. A student must apply for graduation and be registered at AUM for classes during his or her last semester.

The specific course requirements and course descriptions of the degrees are listed below. As a general rule, all basic program course requirements are completed first by the graduate student. Core classes can be taken in any order, assuming the basic prerequisites have been met. Regarding the M.B.A., the Synergistic Organizational Strategy course (MNGT 6800) is the capstone course and is taken after all other core courses have been completed (or concurrently, with dean’s permission).

The AUM College of Business has specified policies and procedures for grade grievance, incomplete grades, late withdrawal, independent studies and internships. Students needing information should contact the school’s information and advising office.

The Master of Business Administration Program (M.B.A.)

The Master of Business Administration program prepares students for administrative positions in business, government and other organizations. This program is open to graduates from any field who have demonstrated capability to undertake graduate study. Evidence considered includes undergraduate degree transcripts and acceptable scores on the Graduate Management Admissions Test (GMAT).

The program of study is divided into three parts: (1) a basic program, consisting of 11 half-term courses, that provides the student with a review of broad business concepts (this part of the program may be partially or fully waived — see basic program); (2) a core program, consisting of seven courses, that extends the manager’s knowledge in all areas of business; and (3) elective courses allowing the student to select work in his or her particular area of interest.

Students who have an adequate background in any of the basic program courses
Students who wish to sit for the CPA exam in Alabama should be aware that Alabama law requires a minimum of 150 semester hours of academic preparation before an applicant is qualified. Most students must complete additional courses beyond a baccalaureate degree program in accounting. The M.B.A. for AUM accounting graduates and graduates of other colleges and universities can be used to complete the additional course requirements at the graduate level. Students should contact the appropriate state Board of Accountancy to determine the educational requirements (courses) needed to qualify to sit for the CPA exam before planning their M.B.A. program.

The following accounting courses are approved electives in the M.B.A. program.
- ACCT 6130 Advanced Financial Accounting
- ACCT 6180 Financial Accounting Integrated Business Concepts
- ACCT 6230 Advanced Managerial Accounting
- ACCT 6320 Advanced Income Tax Accounting
- ACCT 6330 Research in Federal Taxation
- ACCT 6380 Federal Taxes and Management Decisions
- ACCT 6420 Seminar in Auditing
- ACCT 6510 Advanced Governmental and Nonprofit Accounting
- ACCT 6520 Governmental Auditing and Internal Control
- ACCT 6530 Governmental Environment and Public Accountability
- ACCT 6924 Internship in Accounting
- ACCT 6950 Financial Accounting Theory

Executive M.B.A.

The Executive M.B.A. in the College of Business is an accelerated, 10-course program across one calendar year, with two courses taken concurrently meeting every other Saturday for eight weeks. Half of the program will be taught in the Saturday class meetings and half online with distance learning assignments, readings, cases and topic discussions, giving students the flexibility to work and study as a schedule allows. Eligible candidates must have an undergraduate degree from an accredited college or university and five or more years of professional work experience. The screening committee will consider the applicant's previous academic record and current resume in determining acceptance.

The EMBA consists of the following courses:

■ Master of Science in Information Systems Management (M.S.I.S.M.)

The Master of Science in Information Systems Management is administered through the College of Business and prepares students to become leaders and skilled managers within the realm of information systems and technology. The program provides graduates with a broad knowledge of IS management skills, tools, and frameworks to effectively manage organizational information systems resources. This program addresses the growing need for technology management professionals in today’s business world.

Eligible candidates must have an undergraduate degree, in any discipline, or must be close to completing an undergraduate degree from an accredited institution (a four-year bachelor’s degree or recognized equivalent from an accredited institution is required). Additionally, eligible candidates must complete a minimum of six (6) undergraduate semester hours in a programming language or its equivalency, which may be pursued in conjunction with the degree program and must be completed within the first two semesters. The screening committee will consider the applicant’s previous academic record and GMAT or GRE scores in determining acceptance.

Students should have a working knowledge of Microsoft Office prior to entering the program.

Graduate Work in the School of Education
Professional study in the School of Education is based on a framework that prepares reflective, competent and committed professional educators. The school is committed to providing challenging opportunities for a diverse learning community in a nurturing environment.

Consistent with the mission of AUM, the School of Education strives to fulfill the following goals:

1. Provide individuals seeking careers in education and speciality fields with the knowledge, competencies, ethical attitudes, skills and credentials necessary for successful performance in the profession
2. Provide graduate level programs leading to the master’s and education specialist degrees that will enable graduates to improve and extend their professional competencies and leadership abilities

a. Utilize recruitment, admission, retention and advising activities that facilitate student progress and guarantee highly qualified graduates
b. Provide advanced study in learning theory, research and behavioral sciences
c. Offer graduate course work in areas of specialization to meet the need for advanced professional study
d. Extend opportunities for graduate students to engage in research, utilize research findings and implement research principles in professional settings
e. Provide educators and associated professionals with an extended understanding of cultural diversity
f. Provide educators and associated professionals with expanded knowledge and skills necessary to teach children with disabilities
g. Develop student skills and attitudes necessary for decision making, investigation, research, lifelong learning and continued professional development
h. Develop additional programs leading to the master’s and education specialist degrees as areas of need are identified and justified

3. Based on a coordinated plan for external and internal program evaluation, continually study and modify graduate programs to ensure quality learning experiences that reflect sound educational thinking

4. Provide leadership in educational innovation and emphasize learning experiences that will encourage graduates to evaluate trends and become change agents for improvement

5. Improve and extend resources necessary for implementing quality educational and associated instructional support programs
6. Engage in research that contributes to instructional and clinical programs and the advancement of knowledge
7. Continue to serve the community, state and region by educating qualified professional personnel, providing on-campus educational services and extending faculty expertise and university resources to schools and agencies within the region

Accreditation
The School of Education is accredited by the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) and all programs are approved by the Alabama Department of Education. The master’s programs in community counseling and school counseling are accredited by the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP).

Master of Education (M.Ed.)
Class A teacher education programs are designed to help teachers more effectively serve the purposes defined for the same teaching field at the Class B level (provided such programs exist). The intent of the Class A program shall be to help the teacher develop higher levels of competence than is possible in the Class B program.

Candidates who took a course for undergraduate credit cannot take the same course for graduate credit. Completion of a Class A program for a teaching field requires at least 30 semester hours of graduate credit not used for prior certification in any teaching field or area of instructional support. Coursework used to meet Class B certification requirements may not be used to meet requirements for Class A certification in any teaching field or area of instructional support.

The purpose of a Class A program in the area of Instructional Support is to prepare educators to serve effectively in instructional support positions. Completion of a Class A program for instructional support personnel requires at least 30 semester hours of graduate credit not used for prior level certification in the same field.

Every student pursuing the Master of Education degree and/or Class A certification must complete a planned program of graduate work within an approved area and maintain a 3.00 GPA in their program area and a 3.00 GPA on all graduate coursework taken. Instructional Leadership students pursuing the Master of Education or Class A certification require a 3.25 GPA in their program area and a 3.25 GPA on all graduate coursework taken. No grade below C will be accepted for graduate credit.

Students applying for initial certification in a teaching field or area of instructional support must submit a passing score on the appropriate PRAXIS II test. Specific courses are determined by the School of Education advisor based upon department requirements and the student’s needs and goals.

Completion of M.Ed. programs requires acceptable performance on a comprehensive examination prepared by a committee in the appropriate department. Each student must complete the Master’s Comprehensive Examination during or preceding the semester in which graduation is anticipated. Students are allowed one retesting; and if not successful on the retesting, they will automatically be dropped from graduate programs in the School of Education. Students should consult their advisors for specific information prior to registration. Community Counseling students will also be required to sit for the Counselor Preparation Comprehensive Examination (CPCE) during the same semester.

Teaching, counseling, and instructional leadership are specialized professions that require the ability to relate effectively to others as well as to demonstrate academic competence. Because of the special nature of these programs, the faculty reserves the right to recommend to the department head and dean regarding the exclusion of students from enrolling in the practica and internships based on criteria other than scholarship.

Alternative Master of Education (M.Ed.)
The purpose of an Alternative Class A program shall be identical to the purposes for preparing teachers at the Class B level in the same teaching field, except that persons who complete the Alternative Class A program shall have acquired knowledge and skills above the level required for completion of a Class B program, including content knowledge, teaching and learning, literacy, diversity, and professionalism.

Completion of a Class A program for a teaching field requires at least 30 semester hours of graduate credit not used for prior certification in the same field. Additionally, AUM does not allow a candidate who took a course for undergraduate credit to take the same course for graduate credit.

This program is designed for individuals who desire a master’s degree and a State of Alabama Class A teaching certificate and who have a bachelor’s degree in a non-education area. In addition to regular admission requirements, the student must meet specific course content requirements and have a degree posted grade point average of 2.5. Students must successfully complete all sections (Reading for Information, Applied Mathematics and Writing) of the basic skills test of the Alabama Educator Certification Testing Program (AECTP) before being admitted into programs leading to initial certification. The individual must complete a minimum of 42-52 semester hours of graduate work (depending upon the program plan) with at least six (6) semester hours of the program being a full-time internship, successfully complete the appropriate PRAXIS II, and maintain a 3.00 GPA in their program area and a 3.00 GPA on all graduate course work taken. No grade below C will be accepted for graduate credit.

Extensive daytime field experiences in public schools are required in this program. School of Education programs combine classroom and real-world experience. Students profit from firsthand experience in school settings. The school has established special partnership arrangements with several elementary and secondary schools. Students have opportunities for clinical experiences in surrounding school districts, thus providing diverse field involvement.

The program requires acceptable performance on a comprehensive examination prepared by a committee in the appropriate department. Each student must complete the Master’s Comprehensive Examination during or preceding the semester in which graduation is anticipated. Students are allowed one retesting; and if not successful on the retesting, they will be dropped from graduate programs in the School of Education.

The final dates for submission of the internship application are as follows:

- Fall semester internship: March 30
- Spring semester internship: August 30

The student must be registered for Professional Internship at AUM the term he or she completes the internship course. The student will receive a letter grade in the internship. In the event the intern receives a grade of D or F, the student must reapply for and repeat the internship. The new application must be approved by the Committee for the Professional Internship prior to enrollment.

Education Specialist (Ed.S.)

The purposes of a Class AA program shall be to prepare educators on the sixth-year level to serve effectively in either teaching or instructional support positions. Students pursuing an Ed.S. program must complete a planned program of graduate work to acquire knowledge and skills above the level required for completion of a Class A program. The curriculum shall be in work approved by the graduate school or division of the institution as meeting standards of quality for study at the sixth-year level. Specific courses are determined by the School of Education advisor, based upon departmental requirements and the student’s needs and goals.

To be eligible for an Alabama Class AA teaching certificate, the student must maintain a 3.25 GPA on all Ed.S. course work in their program area and a 3.25 GPA on all graduate course work taken. No grade below C will be accepted for graduate credit.

Coursework used to meet Class A certification requirements may not be used to meet certification requirements for Class AA certification in any teaching field or area of instructional support. Candidates who took a course for credit in a Class A program cannot take the same course for credit in a Class AA program. Completion of a Class AA program for a teaching field requires at least 30 semester hours of graduate credit not used for prior level certification in the same field.

All Ed.S. programs require acceptable performance on a comprehensive examination prepared by a committee in the appropriate department. Each student must write the Ed.S. Comprehensive Examination during or preceding the term in which completion is anticipated. Students are allowed one retesting; and if not successful on the retesting, they will be dropped from graduate programs in the School of Education. Students should consult with their advisor for specific information prior to registration.

General Admission Requirements

Applicants for admission to one of the graduate degree programs offered by AUM must submit to the AUM Graduate Admissions Office a formal application, official transcripts of all previous college-level work, and GRE or MAT scores. Any candidate applying for admission to a state-approved teacher education program shall be required to be fingerprinted for a criminal background check through the Alabama Bureau of Investigation (ABI) and the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI). For fingerprinting services, please contact: www.cogentid.com/AL. Some graduate programs, such as Counseling and Instructional Leadership, have additional admission criteria such as portfolios and interviews.

AUM does not admit individuals to Class A programs based on professional educator certificates from another state.

Criteria for Admission to Class A Teaching Field Programs:

Requirements for admission shall include a valid bachelor’s level professional educator certificate in the same teaching field(s) in which the Class A Professional Educator Certificate is sought, except for special education and as prescribed in the rules for Alternative Class A programs, English for speakers of other languages, and reading specialists. Admission to a Class A special education program requires at least a valid bachelor’s-level certificate in any teaching field.

Criteria for Admission to Class A Programs for Areas of Instructional Support:

Other than instructional leadership programs, requirements for admission shall include a valid bachelor’s-level or valid master’s-level professional educator certificate in a teaching field or a valid master’s-level certificate in another area of instructional support.

Criteria for Admission to Alternative Class A Programs:

Candidates admitted on or after October 1, 2009, may complete no more than five approved program courses prior to unconditional admission. Candidates must attain a passing score in each subtest of the Basic Skills Assessment of the AECTP for admission to programs leading to initial certification.

Teaching field course requirements must be met prior to unconditional admission unless a graduate course will be used to meet the requirement of a course in each of the areas listed in a comprehensive middle level or secondary teaching field (English language arts, general science, general social studies).
Degree Requirements
A person who is eligible for admission to an Alternative Class A program shall have earned a bachelor’s or higher degree with a minimum grade point average (GPA) overall of 2.50. This GPA must be documented on the official transcript of the degree granting institution and must be the GPA that was used as the basis for granting the degree. In addition, the person must meet one of the following options:

Option 1: Earned a bachelor’s degree from a regionally accredited college or university.
Option 2: Earned a bachelor’s degree from a non-regionally accredited institution and an earned master’s or higher degree from a regionally accredited institution, and attained a passing score on the prescribed Praxis II subject assessment of the Alabama Educator Certification Testing Program (AECTP). This option is permitted only when both of the following conditions are met:

- At the discretion of the administrative head of the unit and in accordance with institutional policy.
- If there is a prescribed Praxis II subject assessment of the AECTP.

General Studies
Individuals applying for admission to Alternative Class A programs in early childhood education, elementary education, early childhood special education, or collaborative special education teacher (K-6) shall have earned at least 12 semester hours of acceptable credit, as verified on official transcripts, in each of the following areas: English language arts, mathematics, science, and social studies or, effective May 4, 2009, earned the current passing score on the prescribed Praxis II subject assessment of the Alabama Educator Certification Testing Program.

Alternative Class A programs in collaborative special education teacher (6-12) shall have earned at least 12 semester hours of acceptable credit, as verified on official transcripts, in each of the following areas: English language arts, mathematics, science, and social studies.

Alternative Class A programs in teaching fields other than early childhood education, elementary education, early childhood special education, collaborative special education (K-6 or 6-12):

- Candidates admitted before October 1, 2009, must meet general studies requirements for courses including humanities, social science, science, and mathematics.
- Candidates admitted on or after October 1, 2009, are not required to meet general studies requirements for courses including humanities, social science, science, and mathematics.

Teaching Field
Prior to unconditional admission, a person who wishes to earn certification in a teaching field listed below shall have completed one of the options below:

Option 1: For any teaching field, effective May 4, 2009, in lieu of Rule 290-2-3-44(3)(d)2. through 5., verification of a current passing score on the prescribed Praxis II subject assessment of the Alabama Educator Certification Testing Program.

Option 2: Early Childhood Education, Elementary Education, Early Childhood Special Education, Collaborative Special Education Teacher K-6, Collaborative Teacher 6-12: At least 32 semester hours with at least 19 semester hours at the upper-division level courses appropriate to the curriculum indicated in Alabama Courses of Study and/or related pedagogy or, at a minimum, the institution must require 12 semester hours in each of the four areas of general studies. The institution may have additional requirements as it deems appropriate.

Option 3: Single Teaching Field for Secondary: An academic major in the teaching field, or if an academic major is not on the official transcript, 32 semester hours appropriate to the teaching field including at least 19 semester hours of upper-division credit.

Option 4: Comprehensive Secondary Teaching Fields:

English Language Arts
An academic major in an area included in English language arts—e.g., English, speech, drama/theatre, and journalism—and at least one course in each of the other listed areas of English language arts. If an academic major is not on the official transcript, then the admission requirement shall be 32 semester hours of credit appropriate to English language arts, including at least 19 semester hours of upper-division credit. At a minimum, coursework must include courses in literature, grammar, reading skills, writing, speech, theatre, and print or broadcast journalism. If an applicant does not have a course in each of the areas indicated, but meets all other admission requirements, then credit for that course(s) must be earned prior to program completion.

General Science
An academic major in an area included in the sciences—e.g., biology, chemistry, Earth or space science, and physics—and at least one course in each of the other listed areas of general science. If an academic major is not on the official transcript, then the admission requirement shall be 32 semester hours of credit appropriate to general science including at least 19 semester hours of upper-division credit and at least one course in each of following areas: biology, chemistry, Earth or space science, and physics. If an applicant does not have a course in each of the areas indicated, but meets all other admission requirements, then credit for that course(s) must be earned prior to program completion.

General Social Studies
An academic major in an area included in the social studies—e.g., economics, geography, history, and political science—and at least one course in each of the other areas listed in the social studies. If an academic major is not on the official transcript, then the admission requirement shall be 32 semester hours of credit appropriate to the social studies with at least 19 semester hours of upper-division credit and at least one course in each of the following areas: economics, geography, history, and political science. If an applicant does not have a course in each of the areas indicated, but meets all other admission requirements, then credit for that course(s) must be earned prior to program completion.

P-12 Programs
An academic major in the teaching field or, if an academic major is not on the official transcript, 32 semester hours of credit appropriate to the teaching field including at least 19 semester hours of upper-division credit.

Admission to Class AA (Education Specialist) Programs:
Admission requirements for the Ed.S. programs are substantially higher than those for the master of education programs. Requirements for admission to Class AA programs shall include a valid master’s-level professional educator certificate in the same teaching field(s) in which the Class AA Professional Educator Certificate is sought, except as prescribed below.

Special Circumstances for Admission to Class AA
1. A teacher with a valid bachelor’s-level professional educator certificate in early childhood education and a valid master’s-level professional educator certificate in reading may be admitted to a Class AA program in early childhood education. A teacher with a valid bachelor’s-level professional educator certificate in elementary education and a valid master’s-level professional educator certificate in reading may be admitted to a Class AA program in elementary education.
2. A teacher with a valid bachelor’s-level professional educator certificate in any teaching field and a valid master’s-level professional educator certificate in English for speakers of other languages may be admitted to a Class AA program in the same teaching field for which the teacher holds a valid bachelor’s-level professional educator certificate.
3. A teacher with a valid master’s level professional educator certificate in a teaching field may be admitted to a Class AA program in special education.

AUM does not admit individuals to Class AA programs based on professional educator certificates from another state.

Applicants to the Community Counseling and School Counseling Ed.S. programs must meet additional requirements prior to admission. Community Counseling Ed.S. applicants must hold a master’s degree in community, school or other related counseling program area. School Counseling Ed.S. applicants must hold a Master’s degree in School Counseling or current state certification (Class A) as a school counselor. Individuals seeking certification in states other than Alabama are responsible for contacting those state certification offices regarding school counseling certification requirements.

Application for Alabama Certification
In order to receive the Alabama Class A or Class AA certificate, the applicant must apply through the School of Education’s Teacher Certification Office after successful completion of all graduation requirements specific to their program. An official transcript from AUM, a regionally accredited institution, documenting an earned Class A or Class AA degree will accompany the Alabama State Department of Education Certification Application.

Applicants for initial certification through the completion of an Alternative Class A program must meet the requirements of the Alabama Educator Certification Testing Program (AECTP).

Requirements for Class AA certification in a teaching field include:

1. Satisfactory completion of a state-approved program with a minimum GPA of 3.25 on all courses in the Alabama State Board of Education approved teacher education program as verified on an official transcript
2. Successful completion of a practicum shall be required for initial certification in a special education teaching field
3. A passing score on a comprehensive written assessment documenting mastery of the curriculum of the teacher education program, which may include, but may not be limited to, an oral examination
4. A valid Class A Professional Educator Certificate in the same teaching field(s) which was used as a basis for admission to the Class AA program, except for areas of special education as provided for under Admission to Class AA Program for Teaching Fields – Special Circumstances

At the present time, there is no testing requirement for Class AA certification for teachers except for teachers who earn initial Class AA certification as a collaborative special education teacher (K-6) or (6-12). Such teachers must meet the Praxis II
Transient Work
A fully admitted graduate student enrolled in the School of Education at AUM who wishes to take graduate courses at another regionally accredited university may do so with prior permission. Approval may be given for no more than 6 semester hours to be taken as transient work. Approval requires that the institution at which the transient work is completed be accredited by NCATE at the appropriate level (initial or advanced).

Programs in Education
Art Education (P-12)
The P-12 Art Education Program helps prepare teacher candidates by guiding their passion for teaching visual art into a rewarding career as an art teacher in both elementary and secondary settings. The studio component of the program offers students a chance to concentrate on accumulating technical skills and promoting their own personal growth as artists. Satisfactory completion of the program enables students to apply for Alabama Class A Certification in Art Education.

Counselor Education
The master’s and education specialist degree programs in counselor education contain two basic options for study: community counseling or school counseling. School counseling is a certification program whereas Community Counseling is a professional practice degree which does not lead to certification. Flexibility for these two options is allowed so students may (1) choose the degree program that prepares them to work in either a school or community/mental health setting; (2) complete the practicum and internships in settings that best prepares students for their intended area of job placement; and (3) choose research projects and class assignments that meet the student’s specific learning needs and objectives.

The skills and theories learned in the counselor education programs are applicable to a variety of professional situations. Detailed and current program requirements, including admissions criteria, minimum program requirements, matriculation requirements, financial aid and other information can be found in the Counseling Student Handbook located on the AUM School of Education website.

Master of Education in Counseling
All applicants for the counseling master’s degree programs must: (1) submit a satisfactory admissions portfolio, (2) possess a minimum 2.50 GPA and a MAT or GRE test score resulting in a satisfactory formula admission score, (3) submit a satisfactory Fingerprint Clearance background check; and (4) be interviewed by the counseling faculty resulting in the recommendation of the Counselor Education Admission Committee.

School Counseling Admission Options
Two options for entry into the master’s school counseling program are available: (1) a traditional option for those who hold a valid bachelor’s-level or valid master’s-level professional educator certificate in a teaching field or a valid master’s-level professional educator certificate in another area of instructional support from Alabama; or (2) an expanded option for those who do not hold Alabama Teacher Certification. Both traditional and expanded option candidates must hold a bachelor’s degree from an accredited U.S. institution or the equivalent from an international institution and have a clear background check prior to admission. Traditional option applicants only must have two (2) years of professional school experience prior to receiving their counseling degree. Expanded option students only must have a passing score on the basic skills assessments of the Alabama Educator Certification Testing Program (AECTP) before graduation. Both traditional and expanded option students must complete all course work with a minimum 3.0 overall GPA with no grade below C, obtain a passing score on Praxis II for School Counseling, and satisfactorily complete the comprehensive examinations. Any additional certification requirements beyond those for the degree may be completed within five (5) years after graduation, but must be completed and documented before the college’s Certification Officer can verify to Alabama or another state that a state-approved and CACREP-accredited program has been completed at an NCATE-accredited institution. Individuals seeking certification in states other than Alabama are responsible for contacting those state certification offices regarding school counseling certification requirements. Further details may be obtained from the School of Education Graduate Studies Office or the Counseling Student Handbook.

The Education Specialist Degree
An Education Specialist degree may be obtained in either School Counseling or Community Counseling. The School Counseling Ed.S. is a certification program whereas the Community Counseling Ed.S. is a professional practice degree which does not lead to school counseling certification.

Requirements for admission to a Class AA in School Counseling shall include a valid master’s-level professional educator certification in School Counseling and at least two full years of full-time acceptable experience.

Counseling is a specialized profession that requires the ability to relate effectively to others and demonstrate academic competence. Because of the special nature of this program, the counselor education faculty reserves the right to make binding decisions regarding the suitability of students enrolling in practicums and internships.

Early Childhood/Elementary Education
Traditional Early Childhood Master of Education (P-3)
The Early Childhood Education program is designed to improve the skills of the traditional Early Childhood Education graduate student in teaching, research, and curriculum development at the Master of Education level. Students complete core courses in education with a concentration in Early Childhood Education. Satisfactory completion of the program enables students to apply for Alabama Class A certification in early childhood education.

Traditional Elementary Education Master of Education (K-6)
The Elementary Education program is designed to improve traditional elementary education graduate students’ skills of teaching, research and curriculum development at the Master of Education level. Students complete core courses with a concentration in Elementary Education. Satisfactory completion of the program enables students to apply for Class A certification in Elementary Education.

Alternative Childhood Education Master of Education (P-6)
The Alternative Master of Education in Childhood Education is designed for individuals who have a bachelor’s degree in a non-education area and desire a master’s degree and an Alabama teaching certificate. Students must meet the admission requirements, which include courses and/or experiences in the humanities, social sciences, mathematics and science or demonstrate successful completion of the Elementary Education Praxis II. The program provides the alternative graduate student with the knowledge in teaching and curriculum to teach in any level from infancy through sixth grade (P-6). Extensive field experiences and an internship in a public school setting are required. Satisfactory completion of the program enables students to apply for Alabama Class A certification in early childhood and elementary education.

Education Specialist in Early Childhood/Elementary Education (online programs)
Students enrolled in the education specialist program will have completed a master’s degree and will have concentration options based on the master’s level program. An individual program is planned with an advisor.

Instructional Leadership
The master’s and education specialist programs in instructional leadership are based on the philosophy that the primary function of instructional leaders is the enhancement of teaching and learning and the ability of the instructional leader to improve student achievement. The focal point of study is centered upon the eight Alabama standards concerning instructional leadership.

These standards include:

• Planning for Continuous Improvement
• Teaching and Learning
• Human Resource Development
• Diversity
• Community and Stakeholder Relationships
• Technology
• Management of the Learning Organization
• Ethics

The purpose of the instructional leadership preparation program is to prepare instructional leaders for all leadership positions within elementary and secondary school settings. The program exposes the candidate to theoretical and real world embedded field experiences. The program also provides a rigorous internship and residency experience. Admission requirements include: (1) professional educator certificate; (2) three years of successful teaching experience; and (3) an admission portfolio, and successful interview. Satisfactory completion of the master’s program prepares students for the Alabama Class A certification. A GPA of 3.25 and a satisfactory Praxis II score is required for program completion and certification.

The Ed.S. program in instructional leadership is based on the philosophy that instructional leadership is a continuous process. The Ed.S. builds on the Master’s in Instructional Leadership. The eight Alabama state standards concerning instructional leadership are a primary focus of study for principals and other instructional leaders. The objectives of the Ed.S. program are to provide candidates the opportunity to:

1. Refine the basic skills and competencies obtained at the master’s level;
2. Develop specialized competencies and skills for advanced roles in instructional leadership.

Admissions Criteria to Class AA Instructional Leadership
Advanced certification for an Instructional Leader shall be at the Class AA level and shall minimally ensure the following:

1. All candidates must undergo a criminal history background check.
2. All candidates must hold a valid master’s-level professional educator certification in Instructional Leadership and at least two full years of full-time acceptable experience.
3. All candidates must hold a valid master’s-level professional educator certificate as a superintendent/principal, superintendent, principal, supervisor, vocational administrator, educational administrator, or instructional leader.

Admission Options:

a. Candidate must hold a Class A Instructional Leadership certificate earned after completing a redesigned program at an Alabama university.
b. Candidate must be currently serving as a superintendent, assistant or associate superintendent, assistant to the superintendent, principal, assistant principal, supervisor (any subject and/or grade level), administrator of career and technical educator, coordinator, or evaluator.
Students enrolled in the Education Specialist program will have programs in Physical Education (online program) and receive the M.Ed. degree. Alternatively, non-teaching degrees related to physical education who wish to pursue teacher certification may opt for the Alternative A Physical Education Master of Education degree (P-12) that qualifies students for Alabama Class A certification.

The Alternative A Physical Education Master of Education degree is designed to be completed in five (5) semesters but can be extended to other time schedules. All courses are available online. Candidates for the program must meet the regular admission requirements for the Master of Education (M.Ed.) degree.

Instructional Technology (online program)

This Master of Education in Instructional Technology is designed for individuals who have a bachelor’s degree and who wish to increase their understanding of the role of technology and its appropriate use in the support of student learning. This degree option is also appropriate for industry educators (those outside the P-12 environment) who wish to study instructional design and learn how technology can be used in learning and teaching.

The program is designed to be completed in five (5) semesters but can be extended to other time schedules. All courses are available online. Candidates for the program must meet the regular admission requirements for the Master of Education (M.Ed.) degree.

Physical Education

The master’s degree certification program in physical education is a natural outgrowth of the policy of the School of Education to provide exemplary programs. This degree option is appropriate for individuals with a bachelor’s degree. The skills offered in the program can be of tangible benefit in a variety of professional, school, and non-school settings. Satisfactory completion of the requirements of the physical education master’s degree certification program qualifies students for Alabama Class A certification.

Educational Specialist in Physical Education (online program)

The Alternative A Physical Education Master of Education degree is for students with non-teaching degrees related to physical education who wish to pursue teacher certification and receive the M.Ed. degree. This degree option is also appropriate for industry educators who wish to study instructional design and learn how technology can be used in learning and teaching.

The program is designed to be completed in five (5) semesters but can be extended to other time schedules. All courses are available online. Candidates for the program must meet the regular admission requirements for the Master of Education (M.Ed.) degree.

Ed.S. Graduation Requirements

1. Candidates must complete the Instructional Leadership Education Specialist program with a minimum 3.25 GPA on all course work.
2. Praxis II—Candidates applying for Class AA certification who are meeting requirements for a certificate that covers a grade span different from the span covered by the certificate used as the basis for admission to the Instructional Leadership Education specialist program must meet the Praxis II requirements of the Alabama Educator Certification Testing Program (AECTP).

Exercise Science (Non-Certification Tract)

The master’s program in exercise science provides advanced study in exercise physiology and research in related fields including health promotion, cardiac rehabilitation, physical fitness, wellness and corporate fitness, human performance, and strength and conditioning. Students take advanced classes in exercise physiology, kinesiology and biomechanics, exercise prescription, nutrition, the physiology and science of conditioning, and clinical exercise science. Practicums are also available in Cardiac Rehab, Pulmonary Rehab, and Athletic Training. AUM’s exercise science program is also an Educationally Recognized Program (ERP) by the National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA) at the graduate level.

Sport Management Certification Tract

The certification tract provides coaches, teachers and athletic directors with theory and practical experience managing sport or sport curriculums within the school setting. Students will have courses specifically structured to meet their program and individual needs. Courses will focus on the uniqueness of scholastic sport in areas such as marketing, facility management, risk management and legal issues, leadership, ethics, etc. Program completion potentially qualifies appropriate students for Alabama Class A certification. Students wishing to follow this tract must have two years teaching experience and a current level B certification. An internship is required.

Non-Certification Tract

The non-certification master’s tract prepares students to enter the professional and/ or amateur sport arena or to enhance their content knowledge to further their sport related careers. Some potential career paths include working for professional sport teams, college sport teams, recreation departments, retail sports, nonprofit sport entities, and youth leagues. Varying opportunities exist within each organization. Instructors will assist students in exploring and determining potential career paths. Courses will focus on the uniqueness of sport in areas such as marketing, facilities, risk management and legal issues, leadership, ethics, etc. An internship is required.

Reading Specialist

The Reading Specialist program prepares reading specialists at the M.Ed. level. Satisfactory completion of the master’s program prepares students for Alabama Class A Reading Specialist certification.

Admission requirements for the Class A reading specialist program shall include one of the following:
1. A valid bachelor’s-level professional educator certificate in early childhood education, elementary education, or collaborative special education teacher (K-6 or 6-12) and two full years of full-time, successful classroom teaching experience
2. A valid bachelor’s-level professional educator certificate in any area of education, two full years of full-time, successful classroom teaching experience, and completion of two reading courses, including an introduction to reading course Requirements for Certification for the Class A Reading Specialist:

1. An official transcript from a regionally accredited institution documenting an earned master’s degree
2. Satisfactory completion of a State-approved program with a minimum GPA of 3.0 on all courses in the Alabama State Board of Education approved reading specialist program
3. Competence to serve as a reading specialist as demonstrated in an internship of at least 300 clock hours
4. A passing score on a comprehensive assessment documenting mastery of the curriculum of the reading specialist program, which may include, but may not be limited to, an oral examination
5. A valid bachelor’s level professional educator certificate in a teaching field

Secondary Education
A specific program of courses leading toward the M.Ed. degree is planned in conjunction with the student’s major advisor. The student should consult an advisor in secondary education for further and continuous assistance in this area.

Applicants for the alternative secondary education program who do not hold a baccalaureate degree in the area to which they are applying will be required to meet the teaching major requirements for the Class B secondary education program. This requirement may also be satisfied by holding an academic major in the teaching field that demonstrates 32 semester hours appropriate to the teaching field that include at least 19 semester hours of upper-division course credit (i.e., 3000-4000 level). Admissions to the Alternative Master’s in Secondary Education may also be accomplished by successfully passing the Praxis II in the teaching major being sought. Concentration areas in Secondary Education include: Biology, English/Language Arts, Social Science, General Science, History, and Mathematics.

Special Education
Traditional master’s and alternative master’s programs in special education may be pursued in Early Childhood Special Education, Collaborative Teacher K-6, or Collaborative Teacher 6-12. Candidates seeking degrees in these areas will be prepared to provide special education services to infants, toddlers, children, and youth with disabilities. Candidates in the area of Early Childhood Special Education will hold credentials to work both in Early Intervention as well as Preschool Special Education. Candidates seeking a degree in Collaborative Teacher (K-6) will be eligible to provide special education services in the elementary school environment. The program area of Collaborative Teacher 6-12 provides the candidate with the skills necessary to provide special education services in the secondary school environment. A specific program of coursework is planned in conjunction with the candidate’s advisor. The education specialist degree is offered in the area of Collaborative Teacher K-6 and Collaborative Teacher 6-12.

Provides a critical study of theory, reading acquisition, assessment and instruction.

6353. Teaching Reading with Children’s Books (3). Pr., graduate standing. Emphasizes a literature approach to the teaching of reading. Examines a wide variety of reading materials and media. Extensive field experiences provided for alternative students.

6400. Historical and Current Trends in Reading (3). Pr., graduate standing. The history of reading instruction as well as current trends are discussed. This course provides students with an understanding of the role of research in developing methods and strategies for teaching reading.

6535. Assessment and Intervention in Reading Instruction (3). Pr., graduate standing. Assessment and instruction designed for students of all ages who are experiencing reading difficulty is discussed. Data from multiple assessments are used to plan and implement instruction for case study.

6563. Content Area Literacy (3). Pr., graduate standing. Effective reading instruction in the content areas discussed. Emphasis on materials and techniques of critical reading skills relating to content areas.

6914. Practicum in Reading I (3). Pr., departmental approval. Opportunity to apply the knowledge gained from reading education course work. Emphasis on providing literacy service to students in reading intervention programs at a variety of levels.

6915. Practicum in Reading II (3). Pr., departmental approval. Opportunity to apply the knowledge gained from reading education course work. Emphasis on providing literacy service to students in reading intervention programs at a variety of levels.

6924. Organization and Supervision of Reading Programs (3). Pr., departmental approval. Provides supervised experiences for advanced reading students in applying knowledge acquired in previous courses. Students are involved in a mentoring relationship with other teachers in a reading program.

7982. Master’s Comprehensive Examination for Reading Teachers (0). Pr., departmental approval. Comprehensive examination covering material from professional courses.

Foundations, Technology and Secondary Education

General Education (EDUC)

6914. Practicum in Education (1-3). Pr., graduate standing. Independent (directed) field experience during internship. May be taught concurrently with EDUC 4914.
May also be taught as an independent (study) practicum course (1-3 hours) in the traditional master’s program.

6972. Workshop in Education (1-6). Pr., graduate standing. Workshop experiences in education. May be taught concurrently with EDUC 4972.

Foundations of Education (FNDS)

6000. Historical and Philosophical Foundations of Education (3). Pr., graduate standing. Analysis and interpretation of the interaction of historical, philosophical and sociological considerations affecting education in a modern society.

6010. Innovations in E-Learning (3). Pr., graduate standing. An investigation of the latest developments in e-learning and reflection on how they are changing relationships between teachers, students, and technology. Students will investigate what constitutes e-learning and why some technological innovations are adopted more readily than others. Hands-on experiences of new communication technologies and an understanding of their effects on teaching and learning practices will be integrated throughout the course.

6170. Advanced Educational Psychology (3). Pr., graduate standing. An in-depth analysis of the psychological bases of learning. Particular emphasis on the development and modification of cognitive and affective behavior. A field experience is required.

6213. Computer-Based Instructional Technologies (3). Pr., graduate standing. Designed to demonstrate: (1) competency in the educational context of computers; (2) competency in the knowledge of computer systems; (3) competency in the knowledge of software; and (4) skill in computer use. May be taught concurrently with FNDS 4703.

6223. Current and Emerging Instructional Technologies (3). Pr., FNDS 6213, graduate standing. Designed to demonstrate: (1) competency in software and applications; (2) skill in desktop publishing; (3) skill in graphics; (4) skill in hypermedia; and (5) skill in telecommunications.

6243. Instructional Design (3). Pr., graduate standing. This course is designed to introduce and apply the fundamentals of instructional design using a systems approach model; that is, the ideas and procedures for analyzing, designing, developing, implementing and formatively evaluating instruction. In this course, the emphasis will be on the development of authentic instructional materials.

6253. Coordinating Technology (3). Pr., graduate standing. This course examines the role of leadership as it relates to the implementation of educational technology and is designed to apply the skills and knowledge needed to direct the use of learning technologies in a variety of educational settings. Students taking this course will be exposed to a range of concepts and components related to the coordination and direction of technology facilities and resources in industry and/or a K-12 setting.

6300. Education in Culturally Diverse Environments (3). Pr., graduate standing. Effective teaching in multicultural and diverse environments. Includes content and strategies in classroom management, curriculum and instructional techniques for elementary, middle school and secondary teachers.

6610. Research in Education (3). Pr., graduate standing. A basic research course designed to evaluate research design, methods and experimentation in education and related areas.

6800. Measurement and Evaluation in Teaching (3). Pr., graduate standing, one methods course. Methods, procedures and evaluative instruments for determining teaching effectiveness, pupil learning, and attainment of educational goals in cognitive, psychomotor and affective areas. May be taught concurrently with FNDS 4800.

6952. Seminar in FNDS (3-9). Pr., graduate standing. An analysis of selected topics in the secondary education area of specialization in foundations of education. Maximum credit 9 hours.

7000 Action Research in Instructional Technology (3). Pr., FNDS 7650, graduate standing. This course is designed to prepare candidates for action research in their school environment. In this course, candidates will design individual research that applies to their area of specialty and can be applied to their classroom, school, or school system.

7100 Technology and Adult Learning Theory (3). Pr., graduate standing. This course will examine adult learning theory and characteristics of the adult learner. In addition, it will explore the theoretical and practical issues of adult learning theory and research while exploring current trends and advancements in adult learning.
7200 Designing 21st Century Learning Environments (3). Pr., graduate standing. This course requires candidates to analyze and report findings associated with school policies, building infrastructure, and stakeholders’ perceptions of technology innovation and integration in schools.

7300 Digital and Interactive Media Design for Education (3). Pr., graduate standing. This course is designed to equip candidates with the knowledge and skills necessary to design, develop, and evaluate multimedia projects that facilitate student learning in the P-12 classroom. Candidates will utilize multimedia authoring tools to produce products that can be incorporated into their traditional classroom and into traditional and online curriculum. Candidates should be prepared to properly evaluate existing multimedia and produce their own multimedia for professional development purposes or use in the classroom.

7400 Principles of Teaching at a Distance (3). Pr., graduate standing. This course is designed to prepare teachers, corporate trainers, staff development program managers, or other leaders of programs to address teaching learners with a conceptual and theoretical foundation in distance education and develop skills necessary for quality distance education.

7500 Trends, Issues and Ethics in Technology (3). Pr., graduate standing. This course is designed to provide an understanding and awareness of issues related to trends and ethics in technology such as cyberbullying, information security, sexting, virtual desktops, virtual worlds, MOOCS, including digital textbooks, and mobile learning.

7650 Advanced Applied Educational Statistics (3). Pr., graduate standing. This course provides a fundamental understanding of educational statistics and enhances the ability to perform essential statistical analysis and interpretation in a variety of experimental situations for program and services evaluation.

7914 Advanced Practicum in Instructional Technology (3). Pr., graduate standing. Practical experiences for advanced instructional technology students in applying knowledge acquired in previous courses. Enrollment limited to ED.S. students in the instructional technology program.

7982 Comprehensive Examination in Instructional Technology (0). Pr., graduate standing. Required of all candidates for the Ed.S. in instructional technology. Comprehensive examination covering material from professional courses. Should be taken the final semester of enrollment in the Ed.S. program.

Secondary Education (SCED)

6000. Principles of Teaching in Diverse Environments (3). Pr., graduate standing, departmental approval. An introduction to basic principles of teaching, including planning, classroom environments and relationship skills; teaching strategies for diverse student abilities; multicultural education; professionalism; and classroom management and discipline. Field experiences required. May be taught concurrently with SCED 4000.

6050. Classroom Management and Teaching Middle and Secondary Schools (3). Pr., graduate standing, SCED 6000. Instructional methods, the learning process and evaluation of learning in middle and secondary school settings; theory and application of curriculum development for various academic disciplines. Field experiences required. May be taught concurrently with SCED 4050.

6120. Teaching Methods for Middle School (3). Pr., graduate standing, SCED 6000 and SCED 6050. Required for all students seeking middle school certification. Addresses specific techniques for teaching middle school: teaming, interdisciplinary themes and units, exploratory courses and advisor/advisee programs. Includes middle school philosophy and field experiences. May be taught concurrently with SCED 4120.

6152. Teaching Methods for Art (3). Pr., graduate standing, SCED 6000 and SCED 6050. Required for all students teaching art. Provides specific instructional strategies and techniques. Includes a review of curriculum standards and assessment strategies. Field experiences required. May be taught concurrently with SCED 4152.

6520. Curriculum and Teaching in Area of Specialization (3). Pr., graduate standing. A critical study of teaching practices and reappraisal of selecting experiences and content for curriculum improvement.

6540. Evaluation of Program in Area of Specialty (3). Pr., graduate standing. Evaluation and investigation of teaching effectiveness, with attention also given to the utilization of human and material resources and the coordination of areas of specialization with the total school program and with other education programs of the community.

6570. Advanced Instructional Strategies (3). Pr., graduate standing. A theory-practice course designed for in-service teachers committed to a serious examination of their teaching practices. Co-equal emphasis on theory and practice.

6610. Research in Education (3). Pr., graduate standing. A basic research course designed to evaluate research design, methods and experimentation in education and related areas.

6902. Studies in Education (1-3). Pr., graduate standing. Independent study in major area to be selected in consultation with the professor who will supervise the study. Maximum credit 3 hours.

6924. Professional Internship in the Secondary School (1-6). Pr., graduate standing, departmental approval. Students placed in accredited public schools in the area for supervised teaching experiences. Students must submit an application for internship to the director of laboratory experiences prior to placement.

6952. Seminar (1-3). Pr., graduate standing. An analysis of selected topics in area of specialization. Maximum credit 3 hours.

7982. Master’s Comprehensive Exam (0). Pr., graduate standing. A comprehensive exam to evaluate graduate study.

7992. Master’s Thesis (3). Pr., graduate standing, departmental approval, FNDS 6610. The thesis is a formal research project in the area of exercise science or physical education.

Physical Education and Exercise Science

Physical Education and Exercise Science (PHED)

6003. Advanced Exercise Physiology (3). Pr., graduate standing, undergraduate Exercise Physiology. An advanced study of exercise physiology as it relates to human movement. May be taught concurrently with PHED 4003.

6013. Advanced Cardiac Rehabilitation (3). Pr., graduate standing, undergraduate Exercise Physiology. Emphasizes the theories, programming and procedures in rehabilitating those with cardiovascular disease. Students acquire academic and practical experience in exercise and therapeutic exercise prescriptions. May be taught concurrently with PHED 4013.

6020. Elementary Methods in Physical Education (3). Pr., graduate standing. Provides an in-depth study of current research, issues and trends in elementary physical education. Research is conducted in these areas to ascertain the best current practices available.

6030. Advanced Methods of Teaching Physical Education (3). Pr., graduate standing. Provides an in-depth study of instructional methods, the learning process, evaluation, curriculum trends and factors impacting the physical education program. May be taught concurrently with PHED 4030.

6043. Advanced Kinesiology (3). Pr., graduate standing. An advanced course in the study of human motion. Biomechanics related to sport and exercise emphasized. May be taught concurrently with PHED 4043.

6044. Advanced Biomechanics of Human Movement (3). Pr., PHED 6043. A course designed to study of the mechanical laws and principles that govern human movement and its application to activities of daily living, fitness, sport and rehabilitation.

6050. Advanced Motor Development (3). Pr., graduate standing. Measurement, evaluation and neurological structure of the human organism. Researching the motor learning aspect of the development of motor skills is an integral component of the course. May be taught concurrently with PHED 4050.

6160. Advanced Adapted Physical Education (3). Pr., graduate standing. Guides the student in the development of adapted programs to meet the needs of children with exceptionalities. Identification and diagnosis of various discrepancies also included. May be taught concurrently with PHED 4160.

6183. Advanced Measurement and Evaluation (3). Pr., graduate standing. Elements of measurement and evaluation as they relate to research design, statistics and fundamentals of exercise testing. May be taught concurrently with PHED 4183.

6200. Organization and Administration of Sports and Physical Education (3). Pr., graduate standing. A course designed to study the organizational and administrative duties associated with sports and physical education.

6230. Scientific Basis of Exercise (3). Pr., graduate standing. Scientific basis for exercise training, conditioning and coaching-related variables.

6243. Advanced Exercise Prescription (3). Pr., graduate standing. Principles of exercise prescription as they relate to normal and special populations. May be taught concurrently with PHED 4153.

6250. Nutritional Basis of Exercise (3). Pr., graduate standing. An overview of the relationships between nutrition and motor performance. Consideration of materials applicable to nutrition and survey of current literature in the field of nutrition education. May be taught concurrently with PHED 4250.

6260. Consumer Health (3). Pr., graduate standing. Principles related to selection and use of health products and services. Consideration of materials applicable to consumer health education, evaluation techniques, preparation of consumer health teaching units and survey of current literature.

6270. Advanced Sociology of Sport and Physical Activity (3). Pr., graduate standing. Introduces the sociological aspects of sport and physical activity. Attention given to the role of sport in connection with other spheres of social life such as family, education, politics and the media.

6280. Psychology of Coaching (3). Pr., graduate standing. Introduces and evaluates the psychological aspects of teaching and coaching. Emphasis on the psychological preparation of the individual athlete and team cohesiveness. May be taught concurrently with PHED 4280.

6310. Ethics in Sport (3). Pr., graduate standing. A course designed to promote critical examination of ethical issues and moral dilemmas inherent in sport and physical education.

6330. Sport Marketing (3). Pr., graduate standing. A course designed for students to acquire an understanding of the unique concepts and theories associated with sport marketing.

6340. Risk Management and Legal Issues in Sport and Physical Education (3). Pr., graduate standing. Provides graduate students with an in-depth study of risk management and legal issues facing sport managers and physical education teachers.

6350. Sport Facility Planning & Construction (3). Pr., graduate standing. Provides graduate students an overview of the fundamentals of planning, design and construction of physical education, recreation and sport facilities.

6360. Advanced Sport Finance (3). Pr., graduate standing. This course will apply economic principles to professional, collegiate, and high school sports programs. It will also provide the student with practical background knowledge of the general principles in financial management.

6363. Advanced Emergency Medical Care (3). Pr., graduate standing. Provides professional rescuer skills (BLS, first aid, advanced care). Injury and disease prevention emphasized in conjunction with practical skills and teaching experiences. May be taught concurrently with PHED 4363.

6370. Advanced Sport Sales and Promotion (3). Pr., graduate standing. A critical examination of theory and practice related to sales and promotion in sport and physical education.

6380. Leadership in Sport Organizations (3). Pr., graduate standing. The purpose of this course is to study leadership theory as it applies to sport organizations.

6383. Advanced Athletic Training (3). Pr., graduate standing. Current practices in sports medicine, including practical experience in training athletes and preventing and treating sport injuries. May be taught concurrently with PHED 4383.

6924. Advanced Internship in Physical Education (3-9). Pr., graduate standing, departmental approval. An internship to gain or improve knowledge and abilities related to teaching physical education.

6944. Professional Leadership (3). Pr., graduate standing, departmental approval. Provides the graduate student the opportunity to gain knowledge and professional experience in program development, supervision, and leadership. May be taught concurrently with PHED 4944.

6954. Internship in Sport Management (Non-cert) (1-6). Pr., admission to internship. The student will be placed in a professional setting designed to meet his/her career goals and desires.

6964. Internship in Sport Management (Cert.) (1-6). Pr., admission to internship. The student will be placed in a professional setting designed to meet his/her career goals and desires.
6972. Problems and Issues (3). Pr., graduate standing, departmental approval. Designed to enable the graduate student to research current problems and issues in physical education or exercise science.

7914. Advanced Practicum in Physical Education, Exercise Science and Sport Management (3-6). Pr., graduate standing and departmental approval. Advanced practical experiences in professional settings related to physical education, exercise science and sport management.

7915. Advanced Practicum in Physical Education or Exercise Science (3-6). Pr., graduate standing and departmental approval. Advanced practical experiences in professional settings related to physical education or exercise science.

7982. Master's Comprehensive Exam (0). Pr., graduate standing. A comprehensive exam to evaluate graduate study.

7985. Non-Thesis Project (3). Pr., graduate standing, departmental approval, FNDS 6610. A course for the non-thesis major to develop a comprehensive research project.

7992. Master's Thesis (3). Pr., graduate standing, departmental approval, FNDS 6610. Formal research project in the area of exercise science or physical education.

8982. Education Specialist Comprehensive Exam (0). Pr., departmental approval. Comprehensive exam to evaluate advanced graduate study.

Graduate Work in the School of Liberal Arts

The M.L.A. Degree
The Master of Liberal Arts degree is designed for students seeking intellectual challenge and interested in exploring a variety of current and classical ideas, themes and problems through the disciplines of the liberal arts. An interdisciplinary program, the M.L.A. involves students in the areas of anthropology, art, communication, English, foreign language, geography, geographic information systems (GIS), history, international studies, music, philosophy, sociology and theatre. Following a wide-ranging survey of developments in culture and society of the Western world, the student builds a focused array of course work leading to a specific project and a thesis. Throughout the M.L.A. curriculum, students are challenged to write on diverse topics, thus sharpening the skills of critical thinking, effective analysis and scholarly research.

Graduate Study Requirements
The program is open to graduates from any field who have demonstrated the capability to undertake graduate study. Graduate students must meet all admission requirements of the AUM Graduate School pertaining to the master’s degree. Evidence considered includes undergraduate degree transcripts and scores on the Graduate Record Examination or the Miller Analogies Test as well as a letter from the candidate explaining his or her particular interest in the M.L.A. program and plans for specialization(s) within it. The GRE or MAT is waived for students who already have earned a master’s degree. Students with a 2.75 minimum GPA in their undergraduate career or their last 60 credit hours are admitted provisionally before taking the test; they must take the test within their first semester of graduate study to be fully admitted and to remain in the program. Probationary students, who earn between a 900-959 score on the admission formula, must maintain a 3.0 GPA in their first 12 hours of graduate study in order to remain in the program.

The Master of Liberal Arts is not a traditional professional degree but should enhance any student’s effectiveness in a career, regardless of profession, in addition to providing opportunities for intellectual growth.

The 30-hour M.L.A. program includes three required core courses that establish a basis for interdisciplinary study. Six additional courses are chosen from the graduate courses offered in particular disciplines in liberal arts to explore the student’s individual area of concern. The degree culminates with a required thesis and thesis defense. A grade average of at least B in all courses attempted in the student’s graduate

The Master of Liberal Arts Program

The Master of Liberal Arts degree requires 32 semester hours in all. The following nine (9) hours of course work are required.

Core Courses (MLAS.)

6000. Research and Writing (2). Pr., admission to M.L.A. program. Required of all students in the Master of Liberal Arts program. Emphasizes interdisciplinary writing and introduces the student to library research at the graduate level. Available online or in the classroom.

6010. Themes in Culture and Society I (3). Pr., admission to M.L.A. program. Required of all students in the Master of Liberal Arts program. An interdisciplinary exploration of culture and society through aesthetics, art, communication, drama, history, literature, music, politics, philosophy and social movements from ancient times through the 17th century. Available online or in the classroom.

6020. Themes in Culture and Society II (3). Pr., admission to M.L.A. program. Required of all students in the Master of Liberal Arts program. An interdisciplinary exploration of culture and society through aesthetics, art, communication, drama, history, literature, music, politics, philosophy and social movements from the 17th century to the present.

M.L.A. Seminar Electives (MLA)

When the core courses are completed, the student’s individual area of study is planned with the M.L.A. graduate coordinator. This area of study is comprised of six 3-hour semester courses (18 hours) chosen from the M.L.A. seminars. With permission of the M.L.A. coordinator, students may supplement these seminars with selected graduate course work from the individual disciplines. Course work must be done in at least two fields. The M.L.A. seminars are:

6000. Research and Writing (3). Pr., graduate standing. Emphasizes interdisciplinary writing and introduces the student to library research at the graduate level.
6010. Themes in Culture and Society I (3). Pr., graduate standing. An interdisciplinary exploration of culture and society through aesthetics, art, communication, drama, history, literature, music, politics, philosophy, and social movements from ancient times through the 17th century.

6020. Themes in Culture & Society II (3). Pr., graduate standing. An interdisciplinary exploration of culture and society through aesthetics, art, communication, drama, history, literature, music, politics, philosophy, and social movements from the 17th century to the present.

6100. Studies in Fine Arts (3). Pr., completion or concurrent enrollment in MLAS 6010 or MLAS 6020 when offered. Period and topic courses in fine arts; the exact emphasis specified at each course offering.

6150. Studies in Music (3). Pr., completion or concurrent enrollment in MLAS 6010 or MLAS 6020 when offered. Period and topic courses in music; the exact emphasis specified at each course offering.

6200. Studies in English (3). Pr., completion or concurrent enrollment in MLAS 6010 or MLAS 6020 when offered. Period or topic courses in English; the exact emphasis specified at each course offering.

6250. Studies in Philosophy (3). Pr., completion or concurrent enrollment in MLAS 6010 or MLAS 6020 when offered. Period or topic courses in philosophy; the exact emphasis specified at each course offering.

6300. Studies in History (3). Pr., completion or concurrent enrollment in MLAS 6010 or MLAS 6020 when offered. Period or topic courses in history; the exact emphasis specified at each course offering.

6400. Studies in International Studies (3). Pr., completion or concurrent enrollment in MLAS 6010 or MLAS 6020 when offered. Period or topic courses in international studies; the exact emphasis specified at each course offering.

6500. Studies in Sociology (3). Pr., completion or concurrent enrollment in MLAS 6010 or MLAS 6020 when offered. Period or topic courses in sociology; the exact emphasis specified at each course offering.

6600. Studies in Theatre (3). Pr., completion or concurrent enrollment in MLAS 6010 or MLAS 6020 when offered. Period or topic courses in theatre; the exact emphasis specified at each course offering.

6650. Studies in Communication (3). Pr., completion or concurrent enrollment in MLAS 6010 or MLAS 6020 when offered. Period or topics courses in communication; the exact emphasis specified at each course offering.

6930. Directed Study in Liberal Arts (1-6). Pr., completion or concurrent enrollment in MLAS 6010 or MLAS 6020 when offered. Permission of M.L.A. coordinator and instructor.

Thesis-Related Courses

6992. Thesis (3). Pr., completion of all other course work in the M.L.A. program and a 3.0 graduate GPA on a 4.0 scale. The student will submit to the Liberal Arts Graduate Committee and defend an approved thesis in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the Master of Liberal Arts degree.

Additional Graduate Offerings in Liberal Arts
In addition to courses for the Master of Liberal Arts degree, the School of Liberal Arts offers graduate courses in anthropology, art, English, geography, gerontology, history, philosophy, sociology, Spanish, speech-language pathology and audiology, theatre and world languages and cultures designed to support the master's degree program in education and which can supplement the seminar offerings for the M.L.A. degree. The Liberal Arts courses approved for graduate credit are:

Communication (COMM)

6030. Communication Theory (3). Pr., graduate standing. Major theoretical approaches to and issues involved in the study of human communication. Various psychological and sociological conceptualizations of the communication process. May be offered concurrently with COMM 4030.

6110. Theories of Persuasion (3). Pr., graduate standing. Major social and psychological approaches to the study of attitudes and attitude change. Includes the study and analysis of theory and focuses on the persuasive campaign in various contexts.

6130. Research Methods (3). Pr., graduate standing. Examines methods of research in communication. Intended to increase understanding of research literature, including design, subject selection, instrumentation, procedures, rules of inference, and theory testing.

6310. Advanced Interpersonal Communication (3). Pr., graduate standing. A study of the communication process in various interpersonal contexts. Considers problems of conflict management as well as the so-called “dark side” of interpersonal communication.

6330. Special Topics in Communication (3). Pr., graduate standing. An exploration of a theme from any area of communication having contemporary relevance.
Course may be repeated for a maximum of 6SH, provided a different theme is selected each time.

6504. Advanced Methods and Procedures in Speech Pathology (3). Pr., graduate standing. Advanced studies in service delivery models in speech pathology, program design, implementation procedures and outcome criterion.

6510. Articulation and Phonological Disorders (3). Pr., graduate standing. Advanced studies in disorders of articulation, with emphasis on diagnosis and methods of remediation. Participation in clinical activities required. May be taught concurrently with COMM 4510.

6520. Voice Fluency (3). Pr., graduate standing. Advanced studies in disorders of voice and rhythm, with emphasis on diagnosis and remediation. Participation in clinical activities required. May be taught concurrently with COMM 4520.

6530. Language Development and Disorders (3). Pr., graduate standing. Advanced studies in language development and disorders, with emphasis on diagnosis and remediation of language delay and disorders. Participation in clinical activities required. May be taught concurrently with COMM 4530.

6543. Diagnosis and Clinical Management in Speech-Language Pathology (3). Pr., permission of instructor. Evaluation and clinical management of speech-language disorders, with emphasis on assessment techniques, therapeutic principles and processes. May be taught concurrently with COMM 4543.

6610. Hearing Pathology (3). Pr., COMM 6600. Types and causes of auditory disorders; basic principles of special auditory tests for site of lesion. May be taught concurrently with COMM 4610.

6620. Advanced Aural Rehabilitation, Habilitation and Hearing Conservation (3). Pr., graduate standing. Advanced study of the rehabilitation of aurally handicapped children and adults, with emphasis on auditory training, speech reading and hearing aids. Independent study and research required. May be taught concurrently with COMM 4620.

6900. Independent Study in Communication (1-3). Pr., graduate standing, permission of instructor. Special research problems or projects in communication studies as determined by the instructor and student. May be repeated for credit when the topics vary. A maximum of nine (9) semester hours may be earned.

Communication Disorders (CMDS)

Theatre (THEA)

6310. The Dramatic Literature and Theatre History of the Western World I (3). Pr., graduate standing. Dramatic literature and theatre history from the rituals of ancient civilizations to the middle of the 19th century. May be taught concurrently with THEA 4310.

6320. The Dramatic Literature and Theatre History of the Western World II (3). Pr., graduate standing. Theatre history and dramatic literature from Ibsen to today. Deals extensively with the theatre of our day. May be taught concurrently with THEA 4320.

6340. Studies in American Drama and Theatre (3). Pr., graduate standing. Topics in the history and major developments of American dramatic literature and the stage. May be repeated twice when the topics vary. May be offered concurrently with THEA 4740.

6852. Studies in Drama (3). Pr., graduate standing. Examination of a sub-genre or period of drama, such as tragedy, Restoration comedy, 18th century British drama or modern drama, to be specified for each course scheduling. May be repeated twice when the topics vary. May be offered concurrently with THEA 4852.

6902. Independent Study (1-3). Pr., permission of instructor. Advanced independent reading and/or research in selected areas of theatre.

6972. Selected Topics in Theatre (3). Pr., permission of instructor. An exploration of a theme from any area of the theatre having contemporary relevance. Course may be repeated for credit up to three times, provided a different theme is selected each time.

6972. Advanced Special Topics in Anthropology (3). Pr., graduate standing. Intensive examination of selected topics of an anthropological perspective in a seminar setting. Topics announced prior to the beginning of each semester. May be repeated for a maximum of 6 hours.

Geography (GEOG)
6200. Urban Geography (3). An intensive study of the location, character and growth of urban centers, with special attention to their interior patterns of land use and cultural development. May be taught concurrently with GEOG 4200.

6300. Population Geography (3). Study of population growth, change, and redistribution at regional, national and global scales. Topics include theoretical perspectives, data sources, fertility, mortality, migration, aging, urbanization, household dynamics, and sustainability.

6340. Cartography with Lab (3). This course is an introduction to mapping sciences and arts. Topics covered include the basics of mapping (scale, spatial reference systems and projections), data acquisition and organization, key techniques for thematic mapping and the principles of cartographic abstraction and design.

6350. Introduction to Geographic Information Systems with Lab (3). GIS history and theory, spatial concepts, research design, computer cartography, data collection and entry, information, storage, relational database design, digitizing, raster/vector operations, overlay operations, map making, attribute queries, spatial queries and GIS output.

6350. Advanced Geographic Information Systems with Lab (3). Pr., GEOG 6340, GEOG 6350, and GEOG 6450. Geographic information systems and science history and theory, advanced spatial concepts, research and relational database design, raster operations and analyses, GPS and GIS, remote sensing concepts, overlay operations, spatial statistics and predictive modeling, advanced topological analysis and GIS output.

6355. GIS and Urban Studies with Lab (3). Pr., GEOG 6340, GEOG 6350, and GEOG 6450. A course in GIS applications in urban and community management, economic development, education, elections, districting, housing and property evaluation, transit and transportation, land use and sustainability, crime analysis, emergency management, public works, utilities, and growth modeling.

6360. Remote Sensing and GPS Applications in Geographic Information Systems with Lab (3). Pr., GEOG 6340, GEOG 6350 and GEOG 6450. This course is an introduction to remote sensing technology. Lectures and lab exercises cover the basic theoretical and technical aspects of various remote sensing platforms and their integration with GPS and GIS to facilitate accurate characterization of the Earth’s physical and human environment.

6400. Economic Geography (3). Pr., graduate standing. Investigation of factors influencing the geography of contemporary economic activity; including human capital, the built environment, transportation, communications, international trade, and natural resources.

6430. Python Scripting for Geographic Information Systems with Lab (3). Pr., GEOG 6340, GEOG 6350, and GEOG 6450. This course provides students using geographic information systems (GIS) the skills necessary to write script in Python program language to accomplish repetitive or iterative tasks and statistical calculations.

6450. Advanced Geographic Information Systems with Lab (3). Pr., GEOG 6350. Geographic information systems and science history and theory, advanced spatial concepts, research and relational database design, raster operations and analyses, GPS and GIS, remote sensing concepts, overlay operations, spatial statistics and predictive modeling, advanced topological analysis and GIS output.

6460. Remote Sensing and GPS Applications in Geographic Information Systems with Lab (3). Pr., GEOG 6340, GEOG 6350 and GEOG 6450. This course is an introduction to remote sensing technology. Lectures and lab exercises cover the basic theoretical and technical aspects of various remote sensing platforms and their integration with GPS and GIS to facilitate accurate characterization of the Earth’s physical and human environment.

6465. Spatial Statistics for GIS Professionals with Lab (3). Pr., GEOG 6340, GEOG 6350, and GEOG 6450. This course informs the student on methods and theory for quantitative analysis within the geographic information systems (GIS) environment. The statistical methods taught in this course will enable the student to characterize geo-spatial distributions of geographic features and entities and verify casual relationships.

6470. 3D and Raster Surfaces in Geographic Information Systems with Lab (3). Pr., GEOG 6340, GEOG 6350, and GEOG 6450. The methods, theory, and applications employed to develop 3D objects in the GIS environment. This course covers raster conversion of vector data, grid surface, terrain and hydrological modeling, statistical surfaces, viewshed analyses, distance and density surfaces, and 3D or 4D visualization. Prerequisite GEOG 6340, GEOG 6350, GEOG 6450.

6475. Geographic Information Systems for Health Professionals with Lab (3). Pr.,
This course exposes students to methods and theory in geographic information systems (GIS) as applied to the geospatial distribution of wellness and healthcare. The course also investigates relationships between humans, diseases, healthcare providers, and physical environments.

6480. Advanced GIS Database Framework Design and Map Object Management with Lab (3). Pr., GEOG 6340, GEOG 6350, and GEOG 6450. Course covers advanced operations in database framework design, data creation, and management, topological editing, automated scripts, workflow optimization, and symbolization.

6485. GIS and Environmental Management with Lab (3). Pr., GEOG 6340, GEOG 6350, and GEOG 6450. This course provides students exposure to methods and theory in geographic information systems (GIS) as they apply to the analysis of relationships between humans and their environments whether physical or social. Study focuses on the role GIS plays in environmental management.

6972. Special Topics in Geography (1-3). Pr., permission of instructor. An intensive examination of selected topics from a geographical perspective. Topics announced prior to the beginning of each semester. May be repeated for a maximum of 6 hours credit.

6990. Applied Research in Geographic Information Science and Systems with Lab (3). Pr., GEOG 6340, GEOG 6350, GEOG 6450 and GEOG 6460. This is the capstone course for students seeking certification in GIS. The course provides an opportunity for students to demonstrate knowledge derived from four basic courses in GIS. Under faculty supervision, students design and carry out a major research project that incorporates topics relating to the history, philosophy and science of spatial analysis.

Gerontology (GERO)

6400. Social Gerontology (3). Analysis of aging in American society from the perspective of the fields of biology, political science, economics, psychology and sociology. (Same as SOCI 6400.)

6500. Research in Aging (3). Methods and techniques currently employed in studying the aging process and aging populations. (Same as SOCI 6500.)

6700. Aging and Health Care (3). The biology of aging. The normal senescence and pathological conditions common to the aged. Preventive health measures, management of chronic conditions and rehabilitative services. (Same as SOCI 6700.)

6800. Legal Aspects of Aging (3). Political and legal realities confronting older adults. An examination of historic and current legislative programming relevant to the aging and strategies of political involvement and influence-building. (Same as SOCI 6800.)

6850. Implementation and Evaluation of Programs for Older Adults (3). Analysis of organizational structure and function of current programs for older adults. Administrative and management principles of program evaluation. Models of planning, programming and budgeting systems examined. (Same as SOCI 6850.)

Sociology (SOCI)

6000. Social Theory (3). Pr., graduate standing. An advanced study of the development of sociological theory from the 19th century to the present. Consideration given to major theoretical perspectives such as functionalism, evolutionism, conflict and interactionism.

6050. Sociology of Deviance (3). Pr., graduate standing. An advanced examination of behavioral and non-behavioral forms of norm violations from theoretical, methodological and evidentiary sources. Substance abuse, mental and physical illness, sexual deviations, suicide, violence and societal reactions to forms of deviance examined.

6100. Minority Groups (3). Pr., graduate standing. An intensive analysis of intergroup relations in the United States, with special emphasis on the processes of assimilation, amalgamation and pluralism. Problems related to prejudice, discrimination, identity formation and prevailing power arrangements also analyzed.

6150. Population (3). Pr., graduate standing. An in-depth study that focuses on the effects of population structure and change in relation to social and environmental contexts. Includes a study of the techniques of demographic analysis, theories, sources of data, the components of population change and population characteristics.

6200. Urban Sociology (3). Pr., graduate standing. The city in historical and contemporary contexts. Also the internal structure and functioning of the city, including ecological patterns, power arrangements, community institutions, minority group relations, class systems and demographic characteristics.

6250. Sociology of Religion (3). Pr., graduate standing. An in-depth study of the sociological perspective of religion, including the effects of religion on behavior and attitudes and the reciprocal relationship of religion to other societal institutions. Major aspects of religion in the United States are examined.

6300. Sociology of the Family (3). Pr., graduate standing. An advanced analysis of family systems in the United States, including their structural features, internal dynamics and current trends.

6350. Social Psychology (3). Pr., graduate standing. An advanced study of the nature and causes of individual behavior in social situations. Includes an orientation to theory and research methods, with emphasis on research studies and practical application of principles.

6902. Independent Study in Sociology.

Dr. Gregg Newschwander, Dean

Professors All, Faulk, Lazenby, Morris, and Newschwander
Associate Professors Rhodes and Terry
Assistant Professors Freeman, Hamilton, Langham, and Pierce
Assistant Clinical Professors Clifton, Johnson, Rials, and Rodriguez

Programs:
Master of Science in Nursing

Graduate Work in the School of Nursing
The School of Nursing offers a MSN program jointly with Auburn University (Auburn). Graduates are ready to lead in educator and advanced practice nurse roles in health-related services to diverse populations. The MSN Program currently has two program options: Nurse Educator (33 credit/semester hours) and Primary Care Nurse Practitioner (43 credit/semester hours).

Both formal program options share a 24-credit/semester hour core and then courses specific to each program option. The program is offered via a hybrid format where a few course meetings may be held over the semester. Course meetings may be held either at AU or AUM depending on the pre-published schedule for that particular semester. The program does not require a thesis. Students are required to complete a capstone paper, generally a plan for an evidence-based intervention either in the educational setting or in the primary care practice setting.

Admission to both formal program options is competitive and all qualified applicants may not be admitted. Minimum requirements for admission include:

- A Bachelor’s of Science in nursing from an accredited college or university
- Good academic standing from the last university attended
- Overall GPA of 3.0
- Unencumbered RN License. Students completing a BSN Program during the semester of application must request a waiver from the admission committee in order for the application to be considered.
- 500-word Professional Goal Statement. This statement will include: reasons for pursuing this degree and program option, past experiences, career goals and past achievements.
- Successful completion of undergraduate statistics course.

Applicants may be asked by the School of Nursing for additional information and may be required to interview with the Director of the MSN Program, the MSN admission committee, and/or graduate faculty.

Full-time admission is available in the summer semester only and part-time admission is available, summer, fall, and spring if space is available. It is unlikely due to scheduling of courses and pre-requisites that students admitted part-time can move to full-time status. Courses are offered only one time per each academic year, so changing programs of study from full to part-time may impact planned graduation dates.

Application deadlines are:
- Summer Semester: March 1
- Fall Semester: July 1
- Spring Semester: Oct. 1

The application is completed online and may be found on the Auburn University Graduate School webpage.

Description of Courses

Nursing (NURS)

7236. Advanced Pathophysiology (3). Pr., BIOL 2100, NURS 3100, graduate standing. Focus on alterations of various physiological systems frequently encountered in primary care conditions across the life span. In-depth analysis of risk factors, pathophysiological changes, and associated clusters of signs and symptoms.

7256. Healthcare Policy and Ethics for Nurse Leaders (3). Pr., admission to the MSN program or permission of the faculty. This course addresses the U.S. health care delivery system in micro and macro levels, problems, principles and the alternatives for managing problems in a systematic manner. Health policy, economic, and ethical principles and the relationship of these concepts to advocacy and leadership roles are explored.

7326. Development and Evaluation of Educational Programs in Nursing (3). Analysis and evaluation of curriculum construction, selection of teaching strategies for diverse groups and individuals and evaluation of learning outcomes in education of patients, health providers and nursing students.

7346. Advanced Theoretical Foundations of Nursing Practice (3). Pr., admission to MSN Program or permission of faculty. Students explore the theoretical foundations of advanced nursing practice. The roles of the Master’s prepared nurse are explored, along with central concepts inherent to nursing practice. Theories from nursing and related disciplines are examined with emphasis on application of theory to nursing practice.

7356. Quality, Safety, and Prevention Using Healthcare Technology (3). Pr., admission to MSN Program or permission of faculty. This course examines the concepts of clinical illness prevention, population health, quality and safety in health care, and the use of information technologies.

7366. Evidence-Based Nursing Practice I (2). Pr., admission to MSN Program or permission of instructor. This course is designed to introduce the Master’s student to evidence based practice. The foundations of EBP are explored including search strategies, research critique, and applications of EBP in advanced generalist nursing practice. Synthesis and evaluation of evidence using various models will be discussed.

7376. Evidence-Based Nursing Practice II (2). Pr., NURS 7366. This course focuses on the concepts necessary for implementation and evaluation of an EBP project. Data collection tools, data analysis, and the presentation of data will be explored. Students will discuss change strategies, protection of human subjects, and the development of measureable outcomes.

7446. Primary Care I: Women and Children (3). Pr., NURS 7336, NURS 7556. Co-req., NURS 7556. Focus is on the primary care nurse practitioner’s role in managing common acute and chronic health care problems in women and pediatric patients in a variety of primary care settings.

7556. Primary Care II: Adults and Elderly (3). Pr., NURS 7336. Focus is on the primary care nurse practitioner’s role in managing common acute and chronic health care problems in the adult and geriatric population in a variety of primary care settings.

7816. Education Practicum (3). Pr., NURS 7346, admission to the MSN program or permission of the instructor. Co-requ., NURS 7326, EDLD 8500. Synthesis of educational theories, research and strategies in applying the role of educator in teaching clients, students, or care providers. Selected educational settings provide opportunities to practice the roles of the educator under guidance of qualified preceptor. This course will be a combination of professional seminars and teaching practice (180 hours).

7926. Primary Care Practicum (7). Pr., NURS 7446, NURS 7556. Focus is on the application of knowledge and skills in the transition to the role of the primary care nurse practitioner.

7930. Directed Studies in Nursing (1-6). Directed individual study plan. Topics and activities may relate to enrichment needs and/or opportunities on an individual basis, culturally diverse populations of interest to students or clinical specialization.
7946. Evidence-Based Nursing Practice III (2). Pr., NURS 7376. The focus of this course is the application of evidence-based practice (EBP) concepts in advanced nursing practice. EBP III is a practicum course in which the student may implement the project proposed in EBP I & II or prepare a manuscript from that project that synthesizes the evidence and submit to a national refereed professional journal.

The Mission

As an academic unit of Auburn University at Montgomery, the School of Sciences supports the institutional mission to foster and exemplify excellence in education through instruction, research, and service. We are committed to creating a dynamic and stimulating environment, focused on use of the scientific methods, that serves to foster open inquiry, encourage critical thinking, and promote ethical decision-making. Specifically, the School of Sciences strives to:

- Provide academically strong undergraduate and graduate programs that prepare our majors with the current knowledge, critical thinking, ability, and practical skills necessary to succeed in their chosen careers.
- Provide focused academic preparation and guidance to students preparing for acceptance into graduate school and professional programs in medical and veterinary sciences, pharmacy, physical therapy, engineering, and law.
- Continue the traditions of the liberal arts and sciences education, encouraging students in lifelong learning and preparing them to become knowledgeable citizens in a complex and changing global society.
- Advance knowledge in the natural and social sciences and mathematics through research and scholarship, with particular emphasis on research opportunities for undergraduate students.
- Enhance the understanding and appreciation of the sciences and mathematics in the community at large.
- Apply relevant disciplinary and interdisciplinary knowledge towards finding practical solutions to current regional, state, national, and global issues.
- Demonstrate honesty, integrity, and commitment to academic freedom in all pursuits.

Graduate Work in the School of Sciences

In addition to the master degree programs listed above, the School of Sciences offers a doctoral program in Public Administration and Public Policy jointly with the Auburn campus as well as a limited number of graduate courses in biology, mathematics and chemistry that are offered primarily in support of the master degree programs in Education.

Biology (BIOL)

6013. Medical Microbiology (4). Pr., BIOL 2010, BIOL 2111. Etiology, epidemiology, vector controls, identification and pathogenesis of micro-organisms of medical importance to man. May be taught concurrently with BIOL 4013. This course includes a required laboratory component.

6033. Virology (4). Pr., BIOL 2010, BIOL 2111, BIOL 3303. The molecular biology of bacterial and animal viruses, pathogenesis, diagnosis, and procedures for isolation, cultivation and purification. May be taught concurrently with BIOL 4033. This course includes a required laboratory component.

6053. Industrial Microbiology (4). Pr., BIOL 2010, BIOL 2111. Lectures and laboratory exercises on the principles and practices of industrial processes involving micro-organisms with emphasis on microbial biotechnology. Topics include screening and improvement of industrial micro-organisms, fermentation media/systems, health care products (antibiotics, anti-tumor agents, alkaloids, steroids, vaccines etc), alcoholic beverages, biofuel, single cell protein, probiotics, bioinsecticides, microbial fertilizer, fermented foods, microbial mining, production of amino acids, biocatalysis, waste biotechnology and recombinant DNA technology. May be taught concurrently with BIOL 4053. This course includes a required laboratory component.

6063. Environmental Microbiology (4). Pr., BIOL 2010, BIOL 2111. A combined lecture and lab course that covers the roles of micro-organisms in the environment. Specific study areas include microbial diversity in earth environments, microbial ecology, biofilms and microbial communication, water and food-borne pathogens and diseases, mycotoxins, water and sewage treatment, biogeochemical cycles, molecular methods, micro-organisms and bioterrorism, indoor health microbiology, environmental sample collection and processing. May be taught concurrently with BIOL 4063. This course includes a required laboratory component.

6073. Immunobiology (4). Pr., or Coreq., BIOL 3303. Covers cells and molecules operative in the immune response. Emphasis on immunogenetics and modern experimental techniques used in analysis and research. May be taught concurrently with BIOL 4073. This course includes a required laboratory component.

6103. Developmental Biology (4). Pr., BIOL 1020, BIOL 1021. A consideration of the impact of descriptive and experimentally derived information on developmental events in various organisms, with emphasis on the mechanics of orderly progression during life cycles. May be taught concurrently with BIOL 4103. This course includes a required laboratory component.

6153. Vertebrate Physiology (4). Pr., BIOL 1020, BIOL 1021. The physiological processes and specializations of vertebrates. May be taught concurrently with BIOL 4153. This course includes a required laboratory component.

6203. Ecology (4). Pr., BIOL 1010, BIOL 1011, BIOL 1020, BIOL 1021 or permission of instructor. The dynamics of the environment, accenting the physical, chemical and biological properties of local ecosystems, giving special attention to integrative and homeostatic processes, energy flow, nutrient cycles and disruptive phenomena. May be taught concurrently with BIOL 4203. This course includes a required laboratory component.

6210. Population Ecology (3). Pr., BIOL 4203/BIOL 6203. Elementary mathematical ecology. Introduces many of the models and techniques needed to understand population dynamics. Problem solving and the use of computer models will be emphasized. May be taught concurrently with BIOL 4210.

6233. Environmental Pollution and Control (4). Pr., BIOL 1020. Introduction to environmental science, focusing on detection, sources and treatment methods of water pollution; air pollution; noise pollution; solid waste; and hazardous waste. Legal and regulatory background also presented. Fieldtrips made and laboratory exercises focus on characterizing water quality. May be taught concurrently with BIOL 4233. This course includes a required laboratory component.

6240. Ecosystems (3). Pr., BIOL 4203/BIOL 6203. A continuation of the study of ecology, focusing on key concepts at higher levels of organization. Topics include fluxes of energy and matter, temporal and spatial patterns, problems of ecological scale, disturbance and succession. May be taught concurrently with BIOL 4240.

6343. Histology (4). Pr., BIOL 1020, BIOL 1021. Morphology and classification of animal tissues and the arrangement of tissues in organs and systems in vertebrate animals. May be taught concurrently with BIOL 4343. This course includes a required laboratory component.

6353. Cell Biology (4). Pr., BIOL 1020, BIOL 1021, CHEM 1200, CHEM 1201. Cell structure and function. The generalized cell, specialized cell and the cell as an organism are considered from the viewpoint of classical cytology and in terms of current biochemical, optical and ultrastructural studies. May be taught concurrently with BIOL 4353. This course includes a required laboratory component.

6400. Human Genetics (3). Pr., BIOL 1020, BIOL 1021, BIOL 1030, BIOL 1031. Facets of modern genetics relative to humans. Topics include quantitative trait locus and association studies as methods of identifying genes that contribute to human diseases, whole genome sequencing, gene expression, forensics, how genetics have been used to better understand the history of humanity, and a discussion of how recent developments in genetics and genomics have created complex legal and ethical considerations. May be taught concurrently with BIOL 4403. This course includes a required laboratory component.

6503. Freshwater Biology (4). Pr., BIOL 1020, BIOL 1021, BIOL 1030, BIOL 1031. Taxonomy and environmental relationships of the biota of freshwater habitats. May be taught concurrently with BIOL 4503. This course includes a required laboratory component.

6513. Invertebrate Zoology (4). Pr., BIOL 1020, BIOL 1021. A taxonomic survey of all major invertebrate phyla, with emphasis on major anatomical and physiological features and life histories. May be taught concurrently with BIOL 4513. This course includes a required laboratory component.

6523. Wetlands (4). Pr., BIOL 4203/BIOL 6203. An introduction to the role, value, distribution, variability and structure of wetlands and to the legal and regulatory framework through which they are managed in the U.S. Emphasis on biogeochemical processes unique to wetlands. Fieldtrips made. May be taught concurrently with BIOL 4523. This course includes a required laboratory component.

6533. Conservation Biology (4). Pr., BIOL 4203/BIOL 6203. The application of ecological and genetic principles to conservation. Case studies include fisheries, habitat fragmentation, use of corridors, rarity, extinctions, viability analysis, endangered species and the role of models in conservation biology. May be taught concurrently with BIOL 4533. This course includes a required laboratory component.

6543. Field Botany (4). Pr., BIOL 1030, BIOL 1031. Morphology, taxonomy, ecology and systematics of higher plants. Emphasis on fieldtrips and plant collections to learn local plant flora. May be taught concurrently with BIOL 4543. This course includes a required laboratory component.

6603. Molecular Genetics (4). Pr., BIOL 3303, BIOL 3503. Fundamentals of DNA structure, replication, mutation and repair, gene expression; recombinant DNA techniques; and applications of biotechnology in medicine, agriculture and industry. May be taught concurrently with BIOL 4603. This course includes a required laboratory component.

6663. Field Zoology (4). Pr., BIOL 1010 and BIOL 1020 or departmental approval. The natural history of vertebrates, concentrating on phylogeny, adaptations, ecology and behavior. Laboratory exercises oriented toward learning field techniques and familiarizing students with the local fauna. May be taught concurrently with BIOL 4663. This course includes a required laboratory component.

6753. Endocrinology (4). Pr., BIOL 1020, BIOL 1021. Endocrine glands and their hormones as integrators of body functions in organisms, especially vertebrates. May be taught concurrently with BIOL 4753. This course includes a required laboratory component.
6760. Evolutionary Biology (3). Pr., BIOL 3303. Evolutionary concepts, including population genetics, variability, dispersal, gene frequencies, natural selection and specialization. May be taught concurrently with BIOL 4760.

6800. Perspectives in Biology I (3). Pr., prerequisites will differ according to the course description. Allows the student to study a current topic not offered in the basic biology curriculum. Topics will vary and times offered will be irregular. No lab is required. May be taught concurrently with BIOL 4800.

6803. Perspectives in Biology II (4). Pr., prerequisites will differ according to the course description. Allows the student to study a current topic not offered in the basic biology curriculum. Topics will vary and times offered will be irregular. May be taught concurrently with BIOL 4803. This course includes a required laboratory component.

6932. Directed Research (1-4). Pr., 20 hours of biology, 3.0 GPA, departmental approval. Affords the opportunity for graduate students to conduct research under the supervision of biology faculty. Faculty must agree to sponsor the research for 1-4 hours elective credit. May be taught concurrently with BIOL 4932.

6970. Special Topics (1-4). Pr., permission of instructor. The student will work under the direction of a staff member on some topic of mutual interest. With the approval of the mathematics department head, CSCI 4970 may be taken pass/fail.

Chemistry (CHEM)

6100. Physical Chemistry I–Thermodynamics (3). Pr., 16 hours of chemistry, 3 hours of calculus; coreq., CHEM 6101. Theoretical foundations of chemistry; a study of thermodynamics. Topics include thermodynamic laws, equilibrium and electrochemistry. May be taught concurrently with CHEM 4100.

6101. Physical Chemistry Laboratory (1). Coreq., CHEM 6100. Experiments to accompany lecture topics in CHEM 6100. May be taught concurrently with CHEM 4101.

6200. Physical Chemistry II–Quantum Chemistry and Spectroscopy (3). Pr., 16 hours of chemistry, 3 hours of calculus; coreq., CHEM 6201. Theoretical foundations of chemistry; a study of quantum mechanics, kinetics and spectroscopy. May be taught concurrently with CHEM 4200.

6201. Physical Chemistry Laboratory II (1). Coreq., CHEM 6200. Experiments to accompany lecture topics in CHEM 6200. May be taught concurrently with CHEM 4201.

6303. Instrumental Biochemistry (4). Pr., CHEM 3100, CHEM 3101. Emphasis on the principles and applications of instrumental methods to structure determination, chemical behavior and analysis. Methods include chromatography and spectral analysis. (Laboratory and lecture cannot be separated). May be taught concurrently with CHEM 4303.

Computer Science (CSCI)

6100. Software Components (3). Pr., CSCI 3000. The abstraction and implementation of reusable computer software components with applications to data structures and algorithms and to the engineering of large software-intensive programs. Uses Ada; assumes a background in fundamentals of Ada.

6200. Theory of Formal Languages (3). Pr., CSCI 3000, MATH 4200 or MATH 6200. Mathematical models of regular sets, context-free languages and Turing machines; deterministic and non-deterministic models, closure properties, normal forms and applications.

6970. Special Topics in Computer Science (1-3). Pr., permission of instructor. The student will work under the direction of a staff member on some topic of mutual interest. With the approval of the mathematics department head, CSCI 4970 may be taken pass/fail.

Mathematics (MATH)

6110. History of Mathematics (3). Pr., MATH 1620 (minimum grade - C), MATH 2000. A first course beginning with Babylonian and Egyptian mathematics, including the contributions of the Greeks and the development of elementary mathematics through calculus.

6210. Analysis I (3). Pr., MATH 2660 (minimum grade - C), MATH 2000. The Least Upper Bound axiom and order properties of the real line; sequences, series, continuous functions; fixed point theory. Emphasis on the development of proofs by students.

6300. Number Theory (3). Pr., MATH 2660 (minimum grade - C), MATH 2000. Mathematics of the integers; divisibility, primes, unique factorization; congruences and residues; Diophantine problems; and number theoretic functions.

6310. Modern Algebra I (3). Pr., MATH 2660 (minimum grade - C), MATH 2000. An introduction to algebraic structures. Binary operations, groups, subgroups, groups of permutations, cyclic groups, normal subgroups, quotient groups, homomorphisms and isomorphisms, rings, integral domains and fields.

6320. Modern Algebra II (3). Pr., MATH 6310 (minimum grade - C). A continuation of MATH 6310 Modern Algebra I. Ideals and quotient rings, ring homomorphisms, rings of polynomials, factorization, Euclidean rings, extension fields and selected additional topics.

6400. Mathematical Models and Simulation (3). Pr., MATH 2660 (minimum grade - C), knowledge of a computer programming language. Use of models and simulation for solving problems in applied mathematics. Techniques of setting up, solving and interpreting models as well as an introduction to selected standard models.

6500. Topology (3). Pr., MATH 2630 (minimum grade - C), MATH 2000, permission of instructor. Metric spaces, continuity, sequences, equivalent metrics; topological spaces and homeomorphisms; products; and connectedness and compactness. Offered when there is sufficient demand.

6600. Numerical Analysis I (3). Pr., MATH 2660 (minimum grade - C), significant fluency in a programming language, familiarity with FORTRAN. Number systems and error propagation, solution of systems of nonlinear equations, acceleration of convergence, polynomial and spline interpolation, Chebyshev economization, numerical integration and differentiation, efficient direct solution of systems of linear equations, PLU factorization of matrices, matrix norms and condition numbers. Additional projects of more theoretical nature required.

6690. Mathematical Methods in Engineering and Physics (3). Pr., MATH 2630 (minimum grade - C) and MATH 2690 (minimum grade - C). Sturm-Liouville problems with special functions; Fourier series and integrals; partial differential equations, including hyperbolic, parabolic and elliptic equations with applications; and Fourier and Laplace transform methods.

6970. Special Topics in Mathematics (3). Pr., permission of instructor. An individual topics or problems course. Each student will work under the direction of a staff member on a topic or problem of mutual interest. With permission from the department head, may be taken on a pass-fail basis.

Informatics Institute

Master of Science in Cybersystems and Information Security

The Master of Science degree program in Cybersystems and Information Security (CSIS) prepares students to become leaders in the field of information and network security, offering instruction and research opportunities that provide graduates with the necessary knowledge and skills to effectively assess, develop, and manage secure information networks and to respond to newly developed threats. This program offers a unique opportunity for students to learn to:

- Critically evaluate and apply research to computer and cybersystems threats.
- Design and conduct research in the area of cybersystems and information security.
- Integrate the use of encryption technology in non-secure and non-private computers and systems.
- Evaluate and recommend technological tools and protocols to protect against risks.
- Identify and respond to information security challenges in distributed and embedded systems.
- Integrate the use of encryption technology in non-secure and non-private computers and systems.
- Design and conduct research in the area of cybersystems and information security.
- Critically evaluate and apply research to computer and cybersystems threats.

There is an ever-increasing need in society for greater cybersystems and information security. This calls for the development of leaders who can implement, monitor, and respond to security issues, as well as researchers who can develop original and innovative technologies to improve cybersystems security. The Cybersystems and Information Security master’s program will provide specialized training in computer network and information security, secure software engineering, operating system security, secure network engineering, and applied cryptography.
Preparation for program admission: Undergraduate degree in Computer Science or a related field. Other majors may require prerequisite coursework.

Students in this program will develop skills to:

- Demonstrate an understanding of the technical, management, and policy aspects of cybersystems and information security.
- Recognize the impact of security issues related to software engineering on distributed information systems.
- Assess information risks faced by an organization and develop a response plan.
- Demonstrate an understanding of technological and human engineering problems linked to security risks.
- Access the impact of information security policies, and market developments on complex systems and organizational objectives.
- Mitigate system vulnerabilities and restore compromised services.
- Manage the development, acquisition, and evolution of a secure information network.
- Construct secure networked and distributed computer systems.
- Troubleshoot large-scale information networks and distributed systems.
- Develop a strategy for lifelong learning and professional development in information security disciplines.

Students in this program can find jobs in:
- Information Technology
- Homeland Security
- Government and State Agencies
- Private Business
- Armed Forces

Students in this program will be instructed by qualified faculty from Auburn University at Montgomery, Auburn University, and also experienced instructors and practitioners from the IT industry professionally affiliated with cybersystems and information security issues.

Program Requirements:
The curriculum consists of 36 semester hours with thesis and non-thesis options. Courses are taught by faculty from the School of Sciences and College of Business at AUM, and in partial collaboration with the Auburn University Department of Computer Science and Software Engineering.

Cybersystems and Information Security (CSIS) Course Descriptions

6003. Introduction to Computer Security (3)
This course provides an introduction to techniques for defending against hostile adversaries in modern computer systems and computer networks, operating system security; network security, cryptography and firewalls, and network denial-of-service attacks and defenses; user authentication technologies with fundamental issues and first principles of security and information assurance. A laboratory component is incorporated into this course.

6010. Data Communications and Computer Networks (3)
Topics in this course include: computer networks overview, OSI layers, transport, and link layers of the protocol stack, including network management, traffic engineering, router internals, queuing theory, data link protocol, flow control, congestion control, routing, local area networks, transport layer, fundamental principles underlying computer and telecommunication networks.

6013. Network Security and Reliability - Quantitative Metrics (3)
This course involves the exploitation of network infrastructure, either as the target of attack or as a vehicle to advance attacks on end systems. This course provides an in-depth study of network attack techniques and methods to defend against them by way of assessing and managing to mitigate. Network reliability with chance failures will be analyzed with metrics to assess security and reliability. A laboratory component is incorporated into this course.
6020. Distributed Systems (3)
Topics in this course include: models of distributed systems, distributed transactions, distributed file systems, infrastructures, distributed algorithms, cryptography and distributed security, overview of distributed multimedia applications, systems and networking support for distributed multimedia systems, distributed real-time systems, load shedding, storage systems, security, and fault tolerance.

6033. Secure Software Systems (3)
This course takes a close look at software as a mechanism for attack, as a tool for protecting resources, and as a resource to be defended; the software design process; choices of programming languages, operating systems, and distributed object platforms for building secure systems; common software vulnerabilities, such as buffer overflows and race conditions; auditing software; proving properties of software; software and data watermarking; code obfuscation; tamper resistant software; and the benefits of open and closed source development. A laboratory component is incorporated into this course.

6040. Applied Cryptology (3)
This course explores modern cryptographic (code making) and cryptanalytic (code breaking) techniques in detail. Topics covered include cryptographic primitives such as symmetric encryption, public key encryption, digital signatures, and message authentication codes; cryptographic protocols, such as key exchange; remote user authentication, and interactive proofs; cryptanalysis of cryptographic primitives and protocols, such as by side-channel attacks, differential cryptanalysis, or replay attacks; and cryptanalytic techniques on deployed systems, such as memory remanence, timing attacks.

6053. Information Security Management (3)
This course covers administration and management of security of enterprise information systems and networks. Topics include intrusion detection systems, vulnerability analysis, anomaly detection, computer forensics, application logging, risk management, contingency planning and incident handling, digital immune systems, alarms and responses, security standards, evaluation and certification process, security planning, ethical and legal issues in information, privacy, traceability and cyber-evidence. A laboratory component is incorporated into this course.

6403. Computer Systems Modeling and Simulation (3)
This course provides a simulation overview and studies types of simulation, complex system modeling, statistical simulation, selecting input probability distributions, generating random deviates, Monte Carlo simulation, discrete event simulation, modeling of computer hardware/software domain, modeling of integrated computer systems, simulation of software quality, simulation of queuing (banking etc.) systems, applications to cyber industry/security/reliability (project drafts), software application. A term project is required. A laboratory component is incorporated into this course.

6912: Supervised Practicum with Cyber-Industry Experience (3)
This supervised practicum provides internship experience with an IT organization. During this practicum, the student is to apply knowledge in a real-world setting, gain experience in a specific field on security and privacy risk concerns, and create professional contacts. The cyber-industry is not limited to information technology but also can be extended to telecommunications enterprises and wireless communications.

6952: Security Policy Seminars: Health Care, Finance or Government (3)
This course provides the opportunity to participate in seminars by health care, finance and government authorities associated with risk related trends and problems. Most important, this is an opportunity for the student to learn and apply advanced engineering and management skills, including the specialized knowledge, to solve real-world problems. This course will provide opportunity for the student to respond to data intensive risk trends.

6970. Operating Systems (3). Summary of operating systems, their associated functions and components will be covered. Topics will include process definition, scheduling, security maintenance, and memory management. Modern operating systems are analyzed and compared, studying pros and cons. Programmable projects will be assigned.

6973. Special Topics - Cybersecurity (3). This special topics course, as an applied elective on the emerging issues of cyber security and information assurance, will serve to elaborate on a number of modern trends not covered in the regular core program.

6992. M.S. Research Thesis (9)
This course provides individualized support and direction for students completing research and writing their thesis.
The Legal Studies concentration is an American Bar Association-approved program. Its objective is to produce extremely competent, well-rounded individuals who have advanced preparation for careers as paralegals/legal assistants and court or other judicial administrators. Students interested in later attending law school may want to consider the Legal Studies concentration. Students in the Legal Studies program also earn an ABA-approved paralegal certificate upon completion of the necessary courses. Paralegals/legal assistants are not lawyers, but, rather, assist lawyers. Please note that Alabama law prohibits the practice of law by non-lawyers, including paralegals/legal assistants. Paralegals/legal assistants may not provide legal services directly to the public, except as permitted by law. AUM is an institutional member of the American Association for Paralegal Education.

Please note: The Outreach Program paralegal certificate courses offered at Auburn University, Auburn, Alabama, are not ABA-approved.

Justice and Public Safety also offers a master’s degree in Homeland Security and Emergency Management. This degree is an online program. Students that receive this degree are prepared for careers with first responders, e.g. police, fire EMS, Fusion Centers, State Homeland Security offices, federal law enforcement agencies, Department of Homeland Security, military positions, as well as private sector jobs servicing homeland security.

Students with less than a 2.75 overall grade-point average in their undergraduate work will be required to submit scores on the Miller Analogies Test (MAT) or Graduate Record Examination (GRE) before being considered for admission into the program. Those with a 2.75 or better grade-point average must take the MAT or GRE during their first semester of provisional admission.

Master of Science in Justice and Public Safety

All candidates for the Master of Science in Justice and Public Safety degree, regardless of concentration, must demonstrate competence through one of the following options:

A. Comprehensive Examination option
   1. The student will be required to complete a comprehensive examination that will include questions from the core area and the required course area.
   2. Students choosing this option will be required to complete a minimum of 30 semester hours of course work.
   3. The comprehensive examination will be taken in the last semester of enrollment and may be taken a maximum of two times.

B. Specialization option Master of Science in Justice and Public Safety
   1. This option offers the student specialization in the MJPS degree. To qualify for this option, the student must meet the following conditions:
      a. The student must have completed a minimum of 21 semester hours towards the Master of Science Justice and Public Safety degree with a minimum grade-point average of 3.5.
      b. The student must submit a written petition, for approval by his or her advisor, explaining the option selected and how that option is consistent with the student’s career objectives.
      c. The six (6) semester hours of specialized work will be in addition to the required 30 semester hours and must be approved by the student’s academic advisor and the department head. The student must receive a grade of B or better in both of the specialization courses. The additional six (6) semester hours may be taken from JPS courses offered or from outside the Department of Justice and Public Safety.
   2. Students choosing this option will be required to complete a minimum of 36 semester hours of course work.

C. Thesis option
   1. The student choosing this option must prepare a thesis on an appropriate topic approved by his or her supervisory committee.
   2. The student must complete a minimum of 24 semester hours of course work. In addition, the student must register for a minimum of six (6) semester hours of thesis credit.

Master of Science in Homeland Security and Emergency Management

All candidates for the Master of Science in Homeland Security and Emergency Management degree must demonstrate competence through completion of the capstone course, which will encompass one of the following options:

D. Comprehensive Examination option
   1. The student will be required to complete a comprehensive examination that will include questions from the core area and the required course area.
   2. Students choosing this option will be required to complete a minimum of 33 semester hours of course work.
   3. The comprehensive examination will be taken in the last semester of enrollment and may be taken a maximum of two (2) times.

E. M.H.S.E.M. Thesis option
   1. The student choosing this option must prepare a thesis on an appropriate topic approved by his or her supervisory committee.
   2. The student must complete a minimum of 24 semester hours of course work. In addition, the student must register for a minimum of six (6) semester hours of thesis credit.

F. M.H.S.E.M. Practicum option
   1. The student choosing this option must work with a Homeland Security agency and develop a practicum that provides the agency with

Justice and Public Safety (JUST) Course Descriptions

6000. JPS Quantitative Methods (3). This course covers principles of quantitative methods to address real world problems in criminal justice. Emphasis is on concepts and techniques of descriptive and inferential statistics with applications in JPS; fulfills a JPS requirement.

6100. Women in Criminal Justice System (3). Examines the nature and extent of female offenders, victims and professionals in the criminal justice system. The course will provide students with an understanding of the processing of women offenders and victims through the criminal justice system. Students will also become familiar with the theoretical concepts focusing on female criminality, victimization, and women professionals in the criminal justice system.

6110. Introduction to Homeland Security (3). The course outlines and describes this emerging discipline. It introduces theories of terrorism; focuses on the domestic and international threats of terrorism, basic security issues, and techniques to combat terrorism. Discusses existence, the present and future state of terrorism.
6200. Comparative Criminal Justice (3). Examines representative criminal justice systems from a variety of nations with emphasis on the role of history, culture, social and political values and economic institutions in shaping institutions of justice including, law, police, courts, corrections, and juvenile justice systems and practice. Attention is paid to conflict and cooperation between criminal justice systems and ideologies that occur when peoples of different cultures and systems are in close proximity.

6220. Ethics in Criminal Justice (3). Ethical dilemmas and decisions in the criminal justice system with a focus on law enforcement problems.

6310. JPS Administrative Issues (3). Examines critical public policy issues relating to the administration of justice in terms of society’s interest. Implications of interagency relationships at all levels of government.

6370. Security Administration (3). Administrative and managerial aspects of the security field in the private and public sectors; administrative and regulatory agency requirements; financial management and planning; organization and vulnerability assessment.

6390. Intel and Info Dis (3). Course examines key questions and issues pertaining to intelligence role in homeland security. Emphasis on issues affecting policy, oversight, and intelligence support to homeland defense/security and national decision-making.

6400. Crime Analysis (3). This course focuses on the application of advanced tactical, strategic and administrative crime analysis tools, techniques and methods; identify crime patterns, series and trends; develop weekly and daily crime bulletins; prepare target sheets and known offender mapping applications.

6403. JPS Information Systems (3). Major information technology systems used in criminal justice. Practical experience is offered on systems used in actual agencies. Technologies of the future will be explored.

6410. Law Enforcement Administration (3). Administrative structure, management practices and operational aspects of enforcement agencies. Emphasis on community-oriented policing.

6415. Crime Analysis (3). Pr., graduate standing. The course focuses on the application of tactical, strategic, and administrative crime analysis tools, techniques and methods to provide direction in reducing crime and disorder as well as deployment of police resources.

6430. Community Corrections (3). The development and rationale for community-based corrections as an alternative to incarceration. Discusses probation and parole, half-way houses, diversion, restitution and other community-based programs, including intermediate sanctions.

6510. JPS Planning and Budgeting (3). Planning concepts, methods, implementation, budgeting and evaluation. Focuses on the relationship of planning to effective management and decision making.

6520. Gangs (3). Explores gang phenomena in the United States; concentrates on recent research about gang formation and gang-related violence including the various criminological theories that explain the social, economic, political, and environmental reasons for the rise of gangs in various urban centers.

6580. Loss Prevention (3). Examination of losses suffered by retailers as a result of man-made and natural security hazards. Reviews methods of handling such losses as shrinkage and external theft, insurance fraud and employee theft as they relate to the duties and responsibilities of the loss prevention administrator.

6600. Business Organisations for Paralegals (3). Detailed study of legal issues in business. Topics include contracts, UCC, e-commerce, negotiable instruments, securities, secured transactions and business entities.

6602. Legal Research (3). Detailed study of legal bibliography, law library research, case and text analysis, resulting in the supervised production of legal research assignments. Upon completion, the student will be able to identify and use a variety of legal sources, plan a research strategy and complete a significant research project.

6610. Juvenile Justice Administration (3). Application of basic principles of organizations and management in the juvenile justice system. Examines the social and legal context of delinquency and juvenile justice practice. Discusses policy, procedure, budgeting, program development and evaluation.

6622. Justice Writing/Legal Writing (3). Prerequisite: Legal Research, JUST 6602. Detailed study of effective communication in justice and public safety. Includes analysis and synthesis of interoffice communications, analysis of research and development of projects and presentation of social science research.

6630. Victimology (3). Characteristics of victim/offender interaction, the effects of criminal acts on victims and their families, and society’s reaction to the plight of the victim.
6642. Justice Writing (3). Pr., Grade of C or better in JUST 6602. Detailed study of effective communication in justice & public safety. Includes analysis and synthesis of interoffice communications, analysis of research, and development of projects and presentation of social science research.

6650. Civil Litigation (3). Legal steps involved in preparation of a civil case, efforts towards a non-judicial settlement and trial and post-trial considerations in general civil matters.

6660. Court and Judicial Administration (3). Analysis of administrative and management issues concerning trial courts, state court systems and the federal courts regarding to case management, jury management, personnel administration, budgeting and other topics.

6670. Family Law (3). Examination of laws impacting family relationships such as marriage, annulment, divorce, adoption, child support and custody, child abuse, parentage, termination of parental rights and other related issues.

6700. Research Methods (3). Pr., JUST 6642. Research theory and methodology in social sciences, including research design, conceptual models, sampling techniques and development of individual research papers. Grant writing fundamentals.

6710. Alternative Dispute Resolution (3). Examination of various aspects of alternative dispute resolution, including arbitration, negotiation and mediation.

6730. Criminal Justice Politics (3). Examination of the political environment of criminal justice agencies and personnel. In addition, this course will explore individual political decision-making within criminal justice agencies.

6750. Survey of Crime Theories (3). Provides an examination of the major criminological schools of thought as well as the prominent theorists within each school; theories are presented that examine criminal motivation and the application of criminal law; additionally, the implicit theoretical assumptions regarding the punishment of offenders is examined.

6752. Homeland Security and Terrorism (3). Introduces theories of the world’s best terrorist analysts. Focuses on domestic and international terrorism threats, basic security issues and use of technology to combat terrorism. Discusses why terrorism exists, the present state of terrorism and the future of this erratic phenomenon.

6780. Administrative Law (3). Focuses on substantive and procedural matters, including code and standards, benefit claims, regulated groups, court decisions and civil rights.

6800. Paralegal Studies/Legal Ethics (3). Survey of the occupational field of the paralegal (legal assistant), including ethics, law office management, legal research, law libraries, administrative law, criminal and civil law, employment discrimination and career opportunities.

6810. Cold Case Investigations (3). Pr., graduate standing. The course is an overview of the best advanced practices for working cold cases. Topics will include techniques for solving cold cases, interviewing, court orders, DNA, information sources, prosecution, and case studies involving homicide and sexual assaults.

6813. Computer Applications in Law (3). Pr., JUST 6602. Introduction to software commonly used in law offices, including spreadsheets, databases and case management software and review of word processing applications. Includes instruction in the use of Internet and computer-assisted legal research.

6850. JPS Personnel Administration (3). Focuses on the implications of substantive and procedural law relating to personnel issues, legal and regulatory issues within an organization and sexual harassment in the workplace.

6924. Internship (1-3). Pr., permission of advisor. Supervised study in an administrative setting, with opportunity to integrate theory and practice in criminal justice agencies. Credit may not exceed 3 semester hours for any single internship.

6932. Directed Research (1-3). Pr., JUST 6642, permission of advisor. Independent research into criminal justice problems, issues and theories or a practical problem in a student’s work setting. Credit may not exceed 3 semester hours for any single project.

6972. Special Problems/Special Topics (3). In-depth examination of specific topics of current interest in criminal justice, public safety and paralegal education. Course may be repeated as topics change.

6982. Master’s Comprehensive Examination (0). Pr., completion of coursework or in last semester of coursework.

Homeland Security and Emergency Management (HSEM)
6100. Introduction to Homeland Security (3). Asymmetric threats have taken the public safety and private security fields to new levels. The events of 9-11 brought this threat to national security to the forefront of public attention. Understanding these threats and the developing public safety policies, tactics, techniques, and procedures, and the interface with the private security sector are the focus of this course.

6120. Issues of Patriot Act, U.S. Constitution and Homeland Security (3). The course will discuss various issues of the Patriot Act as it relates to the U.S.

6130. Crime and Intelligence Analysis (3). This course focuses on the application of tactical, strategic and administrative crime analysis and intelligence analysis tools, techniques and methods to provide direction in reducing crime and disorder as well as deployment of HS and EM resources.

6320. Emergency Management (3). HSEM 6320 provides a critical understanding of the nature of emergency management for first responders. The class uses a mixed set of class procedures designed for varied learning and virtual discussions of theoretical and contemporary emergency management procedures dealing with disasters.

6330. Psychology of Terrorism and Fear (3). Course provides a broad overview of psychological effects of terrorism, including the generalized fear and anxiety experienced by the public.

6340. Weapons of Mass Destruction (3). Topics to be covered include the definitions and effects of nuclear, chemical, biological and radiological weapons; motivation and capabilities of terrorist groups to acquire and use WMDs.

6350. Technology for Homeland Security (3). Broad overview of homeland security technology, includes (but not limited to) information systems, information security, inspection, surveillance technology and an emphasis on security of technology infrastructure.

6360. Agricultural Security (3). This course will introduce the student to the vulnerabilities of agriculture to intentional and unintentional harmful agents. Legislation related to ag security will be covered. Current and past incidents of agro-terrorism will be taught. Roles of local, state and federal response will also be explored.

6370. Crisis Intervention (3). This course introduces the basic theories and principles of crisis intervention. The emphasis is on identifying and demonstrating appropriate and differential techniques for intervening in various disasters and emergencies.

6380. World Religions and Terrorism (3). This course explores the three major religions of the world: Christianity, Judaism and Islam, and their association with war and terrorism. Emphasis will be on the radical sects of all three religions. Emphasis on current conflicts and its relationship to homeland security.

6390. Intelligence and Information Dissemination (3). This course will cover the principles of intelligence gathering and appropriate means of disseminating critical intelligence information. (Course will be modeled after the Naval Postgraduate Course.)

6440. Introduction to the Fusion Center (3). Pr., graduate standing. Provide students with an introduction to Fusion Center operations, specifically intelligence sharing organizations that have been created in 50 states following the 9/11 terrorist attacks. This course also includes a review of the 9/11 Commission findings and the intelligence reorganization.

6965. Independent Study (3). Pr., Permission of advisor.

6972. Special Topics in Homeland Security and Emergency Management (3). Pr., graduate standing in HSEM. In-depth examination of specific topics of current interest in Homeland Security and Emergency Management. Course may be repeated as topics change.

6985. Capstone Project in Homeland Security (3). Provide students with the motivation and skills to perform their professional roles in new ways by putting knowledge into practice. Students will have writing assignments, such as development of a concept paper for practical and applied implementation and research topics.

Department of Psychology

The Department of Psychology promotes the generation, development and transfer of scientific and professional knowledge through its programs of teaching, research and service. The graduate program is an academically rigorous program with a basis in scientific psychology. The goal for graduate students is the ability to gain entrance into a doctoral program or have skills to obtain employment in the field. All students will be able to recognize and differentiate concepts used in the basic domains of psychology and distinguish research methods and statistical procedures commonly used in psychology. The program has a clinical focus, and students will learn to administer and interpret psychological tests and demonstrate basic clinical skills. Thesis students will be able to present and successfully defend an original research study.

Psychology Course Descriptions (PSYC)
6100. Professional Issues, Ethics and Diversity (3). Pr., graduate standing. Ethical issues and their relevance for the student’s professional identity. Practice research applications of the American Psychological Association’s code of ethics examined, along with cultural and diversity issues. Usually offered summer term.

6150. Theories of Psychotherapy (3). Pr. graduate standing. Basic theoretical systems of psychotherapy. Usually offered summer term.

6160. History and Systems of Psychology (3). Pr., graduate standing. Historical developments leading to various systematic foundations in contemporary psychology. Usually offered spring term.

6170. Advanced Educational Psychology (3). Pr., graduate standing. In-depth analysis of the psychological bases of learning. Particular emphasis is on development and modification of cognitive and affective behavior. Same as FNDS 6170.

6190. Research Methods (3). Pr., graduate standing. Investigative techniques of research, with special emphasis on principles and practices of research design and methodology. Usually offered fall term.

6243. Principles of Psychotherapy (4). Pr., graduate standing. An introduction to counseling and psychotherapy, with an emphasis on basic skills and common therapeutic principles. Usually offered summer term.

6250. Group Psychotherapy (3). Pr., graduate standing. Group psychotherapy and technique. Covers the history of group therapy, aspects of group development, leadership styles, ethical considerations and leading groups from different theoretical perspectives.

6263. Psychometrics for Psychological Assessment (1). Pr., graduate standing. Concepts of test reliability, validity and their applications to psychological testing (online). Usually offered every term.

6273. Individual Intelligence Testing (3). Pr., PSYC 4153 or equivalent. Supervised practice in administration and interpretation of individual intelligence tests for children and adults. Usually offered fall term.

6290. Research Statistics (3) Pr., graduate standing. An advanced lecture and laboratory course using statistical analysis for complex research designs.

6320. Physiological Psychology (3). Pr., graduate standing. Physiological bases of behavior, motivation and cognitive processes, focusing on the central nervous system.

6330. Sensation and Perception (3). Pr., graduate standing. A survey of how organisms sense and perceive the environment. Topics include stimuli that activate the sense organs, anatomy of sense organs and theories and research about how the brain and past experiences convert sensations into perceptions.

6350. Psychopharmacology (3). Pr., graduate standing. Study of chemicals with the potential to alter mood, perception or behavior. Includes the composition and effects of such drugs, theoretical perspectives and empirical research.

6450. Advanced Social Psychology (3). Pr., graduate standing. Selected theory and research in socialization process, interpersonal dynamics, conformity and attitude formation and change.

6470. Culture and Psychology (3). Pr., graduate standing. The importance of culture in explaining human behavior. Encourages students to raise questions about traditional viewpoints in psychology and to evaluate different ways of understanding the diversity of human behavior in general.

6530. Advanced Abnormal Psychology (3). Pr., graduate standing. Provides a working understanding of various disorders treated and managed by professional psychologists. Includes familiarity with operationalized diagnostic criteria and theoretical perspectives on various disorders. Usually offered spring term.

6613. Principles of Behavior Modification (4). Pr., graduate standing. Learning reviewed with emphasis on the modification of human behavior. Group and single-subject research, data gathering instruments and designs are compared, constructed and used in a supervised practicum.

6623. Advanced Behavior Modification (3). Pr., PSYC 6613. Analysis of the literature of behavior modification and participation in a supervised practicum. May be repeated for a maximum of 9 hours credit.

6660. Cognitive Psychology (3). Pr., graduate standing. A survey course that examines cognitive processes involved in memory, attention, decision making, problem solving, mental imagery and language. Basic and applied research in these areas emphasized.

6710. Theories of Personality (3). Pr., graduate standing. A systematic examination of the theoretical and methodological characteristics of approaches to the study of personality which have influenced the area.

6760. Advanced Industrial-Organizational Psychology (3). Pr., graduate standing. Provides an in-depth focus on issues in industrial-organizational psychology. Basic theoretical positions and empirical findings emphasized.

6860. Political Psychology (3). Examines the psychological foundations of individual political behavior. Applies various social-psychological paradigms to the study of public attitudes, mass and elite behavior, social conflicts, and foreign policy making. May be taught concurrently with 4860.

6902. Independent Study and Project (1-6). Pr., graduate standing. Topics relevant to the individual’s program which are not available in the remainder of the curriculum may be investigated with one objective being the production of a thesis. May be repeated for a total not to exceed 9 hours. Offered every term.

6924. Practicum in Psychology (2-6). Pr., graduate standing. Supervised practice in an applied setting. Content and placement to be arranged by the student and department. May be repeated for a total of 6 hours. Usually offered every term.

ing student and faculty interests. May be repeated by the student in various topics.

6982. Master in Psychology Comprehensive Examination (0). Pr., advisor’s approval.
A series of exams covering core areas that parallel many of the topics assessed in the EPPP licensing exam for psychologists. Students are eligible to register for the comprehensive if they meet the following criteria:
1. Formal admission to the graduate program (GR entry).
2. A 3.0 graduate GPA (based on a 4.0 scale).
Should a student fail the examination, it may be retaken two times.

6992. Thesis (0). Pr., graduate standing, committee chair’s approval. Completion of a formal research project under faculty supervision.

Department of Political Science and Public Administration

Master of Science in International Relations

In cooperation with the United States Air Force and Maxwell Air Force Base, the Department of Political Science and Public Administration offers a master’s degree in international relations. The Master of Science in International Relations (M.I.R.)
offers students advanced training in the study of international relations – the interactions among states and the relations between states and non-state actors. Courses cover many facets of international relations, including U.S. foreign policy, globalization, democratization, international organizations, conflict and cooperation, and national security. The program positions students for careers with international organizations, state and national governments, and the private sector, and provides students with the additional academic training needed when applying to doctoral programs.

The M.I.R. comprises 30 semester hours (10 courses) and a comprehensive exam. Classes meet at Maxwell Air Force Base in facilities provided by the U.S. Air Force.

Time Limit
All graduate work toward the MIR degree must be completed within five calendar years (15 terms), including summer terms. Time spent in active military service because of a national emergency will not be counted when the national emergency requires that the student be temporarily relocated.

Residency Requirement
With the exception of transfer credits, a student must take all course work toward the M.I.R. degree in residence. No correspondence or distance learning credit may be granted.

Degree Requirements
The Master of International Relations degree consists of 30 semester hours, of which no more than six (6) hours may be transfer credit. Students must maintain a 3.0 GPA or higher and must pass a written comprehensive examination in their last semester of course work. There is no thesis requirement.

Tuition and Fees
Tuition and fees in the M.I.R. program are the same as those for campus graduate programs.

Courses in the MIR Degree Program (POLS)

6060. Applied Research and Program Evaluation (3). Pr., graduate standing. The application of scientific research methods to administrative problems, including practical methods of gathering, analyzing and interpreting data. Includes theory and basic techniques underlying quantitative and qualitative analysis of public programs.

6110. Seminar in American Government (3). Pr., graduate standing. A systematic examination of functions, problems and issues within the political and constitutional framework of selected areas of American government.

6200. U.S. Foreign Policy (3). Pr., graduate standing. An examination of American diplomatic experience and foreign relations from the Revolution to the present.

6250. National Security and Domestic Policy (3). Pr., graduate standing. An analysis of concepts of national security, national interest, self-defense and self-determination and how these concepts are affected by domestic policy decisions.

6350. Area Studies (3). Pr., graduate standing. An in-depth analysis of the political environment, institutions and processes of government in a geographical area selected by the instructor. May be repeated with focus in another area.

6450. Comparative Government and Politics (3). Pr., graduate standing. An examination of the institutions, political processes, functions and problems of major contemporary political systems from a comparative perspective.

6550. Problems in Contemporary International Politics (3). Pr., graduate standing. An in-depth analysis of current problems and conflicts in international relations, such as terrorism, globalization and the use of force.

6660. Democracy and Democratization (3). Pr., graduate standing. The roots, development and major components of the democratic idea, the variety of modern democratic practice, as well as the spread of democracy in the modern world and its effects on international politics.

6680. Seminar in International Law and Organization (3). Pr., graduate standing. A systematic analysis of international law and organizations and their relevance and effectiveness in resolving conflict among states.

Master of Science in Political Science

The Master’s Degree in Political Science (M.P.S.) provides students with advanced training in the study of political processes and institutions at the national and international levels. Courses focus on the role of governments, interest groups, non-state actors such as international organizations, and the sources and significance of such contemporary dynamics as globalization, terrorism, democratization, and changing power differentials. The program is designed for students who seek both academic or professional careers and positions students for careers in higher and secondary education, journalism, local, state, or federal government, and non-profit organizations at the local, national, or international levels. The program also provides students with the additional training doctoral programs often expect.

The M.P.S. comprises a five-course core and 18 additional hours of study selected from any political science or public administration courses offered for graduate credit. With the consent of the Department Head, a student may take up to nine hours of coursework from any other AUM department offering graduate courses. These nine hours would be applied toward the 18 elective hours required.

Awarding of the degree is conditional on completion of 33 graduate semester hours at a 3.0 GPA or higher, meeting graduate school requirements, and passing comprehensive exams on the completion of all required coursework.

Courses in the M.P.S. Program (POLS)

There are five required courses in the M.P.S. program:

6010. Introduction to Public Administration (3). Pr., graduate standing. Examines the constitutional, institutional, political and social environment in which public administration occurs and introduces students to the important theories, concepts, functions and issues in public administration.

6060. Introduction to Applied Research Design and Quantitative Analysis. Students are introduced to the purpose and design of applied research as well as the foundations of quantitative analysis including basic statistics and hypothesis testing, linear regression techniques, and the use of data management/analysis software.

6100. Seminar in American Government (3). Pr., graduate standing. A systematic examination of functions, problems and issues within the political and constitutional framework of selected areas of American government.

6130. Seminar in State and Local Government (3). Pr., graduate standing. A systematic examination of function, problems and issues within the political and constitutional framework of selected areas of state and local government.

Master of Science in Public Administration
The Master’s Degree Program in Public Administration (M.P.A.) provides students with the knowledge and skills needed for a variety of positions in the public, nonprofit, and private sectors, and is designed for students seeking to enhance their administrative careers as well as those seeking greater professional preparation and development. The Auburn University at Montgomery program is accredited by the Network of Schools of Public Policy, Affairs and Administration (NASPAA), the accrediting body of master’s degree programs in public administration.

The mission of the Auburn University at Montgomery M.P.A. program is to prepare students with diverse backgrounds and experiences for successful policymaking and administrative careers at the local, regional, and national levels. Through excellent teaching, research, academic collaboration, community engagement, and service, the program provides students with the critical knowledge, professional skills, and public service values required to assume leadership positions in the public and nonprofit sectors. Key hallmarks of the program are its emphasis on the importance of an understanding of the normative, constitutional, and participatory aspects of active citizenship, and the broader challenges facing public policy and administration in the contemporary world.

The M.P.A. program comprises 36 semester hours – an eight-course core and four electives chosen from any political science or public administration courses offered for graduate credit. Students may choose to concentrate in one of the program’s elective concentrations (Nonprofit Management and Leadership and State and Local Administration) or they may select a broader set of electives. In addition, with the consent of the Department Head, a student may take up to six hours of coursework from any other AUM department offering graduate courses. These six hours would be applied toward the required elective hours. Awarding of the degree is conditional on completion of 36 graduate semester hours at a 3.0 GPA or higher and, on the completion of all required coursework, passing the comprehensive exams.

Courses in the M.P.A. Program of Study (PUAD)

Core Courses

6830. Seminar in Health Care Policy & Administration (3). Pr., graduate standing. In-depth examination of contemporary problems and issues in the delivery of health care.

6924. Internship in Public Administration (3). Pr., graduate standing. Provides pre-service students practical knowledge of some of the concepts and theories taught in class. Students allowed to take a maximum of six (6) hours internship credit.

6962. Directed Readings in Public Administration (3). Pr., graduate standing. Credit to be arranged and consent of instructor required for enrollment.

6972. Special Problems in Public Administration (1-6). Pr., graduate standing. Advanced research in specific areas of public administration (as arranged).

6982. Comprehensive Examination (0). Pr., graduate standing. Students are eligible to register for the comprehensive if they meet the following criteria:
1. Formal admission to the graduate program (GR entry).
2. Completion (with recorded grades, not Is) of 36 hours of degree courses, including all core courses.
3. A 3.0 graduate GPA (based on a 4.0 scale).

Should a student fail the examination, the exam may be retaken one time. That retake can be taken no earlier than the next term’s scheduled exam date. Students retake only the section(s) failed.

Ph.D. in Public Administration and Public Policy
The Ph.D. in Public Administration and Public Policy is a collaborative enterprise between the AUM Department of Political Science and Public Administration and the Auburn University Department of Political Science. Students take courses at both campuses and faculty members from each campus serve on a student’s committee. The degree is designed for students interested in public administration, public policy, or political science and pursuing careers in academics, advocacy, consulting, government, policy analysis, or research.

The curriculum includes five required core courses (Seminar in Public Administration, Seminar in Public Policy, Research Design, Quantitative Methods, and Qualitative Methods). Students also take three public administration track courses or three public policy track courses. In addition to the core and track courses, students take five electives to develop a concentration or area of specialization in either the policy or public administration fields. The specialization is developed in coordination with the student’s primary advisor and committee, which must comprise at least one member from the AUM Political Science and Public Administration Department and one from the Auburn Political Science Department. Upon completion of all course work students are eligible to take the comprehensives. An oral defense of a dissertation prospectus follows the comprehensives. Successful completion of those steps enables the student to be admitted to doctoral candidacy.

Courses for the doctoral degree are offered on both campuses and students should consult the websites of both universities for the most up-to-date course listings. A note on course numbers: 8000 numbers refer to Auburn University doctoral courses, 7000 numbers refer to Auburn University at Montgomery doctoral courses. Master’s level courses may be taken as electives with the approval of the student’s advisor so long as there are not Ph.D.-level corollaries.

Courses in the Ph.D. Program of Study (PUAD)

7020. Seminar in Public Policy (3). Pr., PUAD 6070, doctoral standing. Advanced study of the nature of policy development and implementation.

Ph.D. Electives

7070. Human Resource Management (3). Pr., doctoral standing. Introduces the advanced concepts in the field of human resource management. Emphasis is on the wide range of human resource concerns revolving around the use of a merit system in the public sector.

7080. Public Organization Theory (3). Pr., PUAD 6030, doctoral standing. Analysis of the research literature on administrative and organization theory and behavior, especially as it applies to the problems and opportunities of public management.

7110. American Government and Public Policy (3). Pr., doctoral standing. Survey of the literature on the main institutions and policy processes of American national government; strong emphasis on research design, methodology, and validity.

7550. International Relations and Public Policy (3). Pr., doctoral standing. This course provides students with an understanding of the central methods, concepts, and analytical developments in the field of international relations and the applicability of international relations theories to public policy.

7580. International Political Economy (3). Pr., doctoral standing. This course surveys leading theoretical approaches from the subfield of international political economy that seek to offer explanations for the evolution of the international economic system.

Board of Trustees

Auburn University is governed by a board of trustees consisting of one member from each congressional district, as these districts were constituted on Jan. 1, 1961, one member from Lee County; three at-large members, all of whom shall be residents of the continental United States; and the governor, who is ex-officio. The governor is the president. Currently, new trustees are appointed by a committee, by and with the consent of the state Senate, for a term of seven years and may serve no more than two full seven-year terms. A member may continue to serve until a successor is confirmed, but in no case for more than one year after a completion of a term. Members of the board receive no compensation. Consistent with an executive order of the governor in 1971, a non-voting student representative selected by the student body serves as a member ex-officio.

Members of the Board

Dr. Robert Bentley, Governor of Alabama, President (ex officio)  Montgomery
