

AUM Employees - Know Your Title IX

Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 (20 U.S. Code § 1681) mandates that no person shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any educational program or activity receiving federal financial assistance. Sex/Gender discrimination violates an individual's fundamental rights and personal dignity and AUM considers sex/gender discrimination in any of its forms to be a serious offense. Acts include but are not limited to: unfair treatment based on an individual's sex/gender, sexual harassment, sexual violence and sexual misconduct by other students, employees, or third parties.

While getting coffee at the AUMazing Bean, I overheard a student talk about a rape that happened at a Greek party last night.

She usually comes to class with visible bruises. Today, she came in with a black eye and said she fell down the stairs.

A student in my class thinks he's being stalked.

A student told me she was assaulted, but asked me not to say anything.

My student is suddenly acting strange every time one of her classmates comes close to her.

Our grad student is consistently asked to stay after regular office hours, when just our supervisor is there. He wants to say no, but is afraid.

Our student worker confided in me that she gets made fun of in a class because she doesn't wear makeup and her hair is short.

A student told me that jokes that are told in another class are inappropriate and make him feel uncomfortable.
