

Message From The Dean

The Auburn University at Montgomery College of Business and its School of Accountancy are both accredited by AACSB which places us in a distinct group of leading business schools in the world. Our mission focuses on excellent teaching which we achieve, in part, by maintaining currency with the business world via research and service to the wider community. One such service project over the past Covid-19 months is COB Business Talks which provides information to high school students related to business careers and career readiness.

We value your support as we strive to improve the economic environment through business education which allows those from the River Region and beyond to be career ready. We ask you to consider being part of the team with contributions to support students, faculty, and staff.

Why support the College of Business?

Our future progress requires your support. Friends and Alumni shape our college and as members of the College of Business Dean's Club you can make a difference. Supporting the Dean's Club provides essential funds that enable the Dean to meet the college's immediate and sometimes unexpected needs, including student and faculty support.

We invite you to choose between three different levels of membership in the Dean's Club. Each will allow you to join a circle of friends that contribute to the success of the College of Business at Auburn University at Montgomery.
